SAYS NO NEW TAXES PLANNED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—(UP)—President Roosevelt reiterated today that the administration is anticipating no additional taxes at the next session of Congress.

Asked whether the New Deal contemplated any change in the corporate surplus tax, Mr. Roosevelt told newspapermen the subject had not been discussed.

To the hypothetical question as to whether changes, if they were made, would apply to the calendar year 1936, the president observed in offhand fashion that they would not, remarking that the government needs the money.

The president's tax statement was made after a full day of conferences with department heads on the 1936-37 government fiscal program. In addition to budget matters, the president considered the neutrality program and discussed the future of the Resettlement administration.

CLAIM STOWAWAYS PLACED ON RAFT

SAN JUAN, P. R., Nov. 10.—(UP)—Four stowaways from the American steamer West Mahwah filed complaint today that the captain of the vessel had set them adrift on a raft at sea after discovering them aboard.

They told U. S. District Attorney Cecil Snyder that Captain Jansen, master of the ship, had ordered a raft built aboard and then ordered them into it some 15 miles off the city of Ponce.

They were picked by the fishing boat Desafio, the men said, and brought ashore.

FARLEY GIVES TALK

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—(UP)—National Democratic Chairman James A. Farley will deliver a "farewell" radio address tonight, thanking Democratic campaign workers for their successful efforts in behalf of President Roosevelt.

He will speak on a coast-to-coast hookup over the National Broadcasting company's basic Red Network from 10:45 to 11 p. m. EST.

KVOE PROGRAMS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 10.—(UP)—A plan to establish a Southern California blockade against penniless itinerants was halted abruptly today when County Counsel Everett W. Matton informed Sheriff Eugene W. Biscailuz that the plan was illegal. Biscailuz announced the necessary authority would be sought from the state legislature.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—(UP)—Admiral William D. Leahy today was designated by President Roosevelt as chief of naval operations, the highest office in the commissioned service, to succeed Admiral William H. Standley, who will retire January 1.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 10.—(UP)—Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn said today the Ontario government would attempt to seize the $500,000 estate left by Charles Vance Millar to Toronto's most prolific mother and would administer it for the benefit of the children born to the competing mothers.

BOARD TO APPEAL RULING ON SALUTE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 10.—(UP)—Appeal from a superior court ruling that Charlotte Gabrielli, 10, has the right to attend Sacramento city school though she refuses to salute the American flag was authorized today by the city school board.

The girl, member of Jehovah's Witnesses, was barred from the public schools a year ago when she refused to salute the flag because of religious teachings. Judge Peter J. Shields ruled the school board had no constitutional authority for the action. At a meeting last night the board voted to carry the case to the appellate court.

Meanwhile, Charlotte is attending a private school pending final settlement of the dispute.

SEEKS QUIZ

Senator Kenneth D. McKellar, who said today he will ask congress to investigate the Literary Digest presidential poll.

SHIP OWNERS. M'GRADY MEET

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—(UP)—Striking warehousemen and their employers came to agreements today on all arguments in the strike with the exception of wages and hours. J. H. Howell, employer representative announced.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—(UP)—Edward F. McGrady, assistant of labor, met with shipowners today in a new effort to persuade them to resume negotiations with leaders of the maritime unions, whose walkout is taking an increasingly larger toll each day.

As McGrady sought to break the employer-union deadlock here, grain brokers in the northwest announced that the strike has paralyzed the movement of inland empire wheat in eastern Washington.

North Pacific Grain Growers, Inc., estimated that about 50 per cent of this year's crop which has been sold is being held up in warehouses and will remain there until shipping is resumed.

McGrady said he was confident he could get shipowners and union leaders such as Harry Bridges and Harry Lundeberg at the same table if he can break through the players have maintained since the dock and seafaring workers of the Pacific coast, numbering 35,000, struck October 29.

VOICES FOR F.D.R. TOTAL 26,113,427

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—(UP)—The popular vote for president as tabulated by the United Press from official and unofficial election returns reached a total of 43,067,011 today, with 113,165 of 122,639 precincts counted.

The totals for each candidate were: Roosevelt, 26,113,427; Landon, 15,938,563; Lemke, 721,892; Thomas, 198,892; Browder, 57,510; Colvin, 14,126; Aiken, 2156; Pelley, 825. Total, 43,067,011.

President Roosevelt's margin over Governor Landon at this point was 10,125,064.

CONGRESS TO GET DEMAND OF M'KELLAR

National Poll Declared 'Wicked' in Attack by Tennessee Democrat

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 10.—(UP)—U. S. Sen. Kenneth D. McKellar, D., Tenn., announced today he would seek a congressional investigation of the Literary Digest presidential poll.

"Measures should be taken to prevent such a wicked, costly and apparently dishonest performance from ever occurring again in the national election," McKellar said.

To Offer Resolution

"I believe an investigation of the matter should be made by the senate, and it is my intention to offer such a resolution upon the convening of congress."

"I wish here and now to advise the Literary Digest to keep all of its books, papers, ballots and every other fact connected with the poll intact so that the committee conducting the investigation shall be able to get full, accurate and true information concerning the entire poll."

Chairman of Committee

Senator McKellar said he would ask that the investigation be made by the post office and post roads committee of the senate, of which he is chairman.

He said it was usually customary to forget "unseemingly occurrences" in a political campaign after election.

"I wish this could be done after the election just passed," he said.

SPEAKER STOPS ROMANCE TALK

LONDON, Nov. 10.—(UP)—The unbecomable John McGovern, tried today to bring the much-discussed romance of King Edward VIII and Mrs. Wallis Simpson before the house of commons, but the speaker abruptly maneuvered the question aside.

Commons was discussing the question of speculation in coronation seats, when McGovern interjected:

"It is wise to proceed with all this expenditure for the coronation in view of the gambling going on in Lloyd's and elsewhere whether or not this coronation will ever take place?"

The speaker hastily intervened, calling for the next question.

Claims Marriage Of Actor Invalid

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—(UP)—The marriage of Ben Bard and Ruth Roland, star of the silent screen, is bigamous, Mrs. Mary Tripp Bard, first wife of the actor, charged in a suit for separation on file today in supreme court.

Mrs. Bard, suing for alimony and counsel fees, asserted that Bard obtained his divorce from her without service on her and the decree is thus valid. The actor abandoned her in 1925, she declared, and married Miss Roland in 1929 in Hollywood.

CLAIM CHAPLIN, PAULETTE MARRIED YEAR

While close friends say they have no first hand information, Randolph Churchill, son of Great Britain's Winston Churchill, said today that Charles Chaplin, famous film comedian, and Paulette Goddard, his leading lady, were married last year.

ACTOR SILENT ON MARRIAGE

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 10.—(UP)—Charles Chaplin maintained his usual stony silence today in the face of newly published reports that he and his leading lady, Paulette Goddard, have been married secretly for more than a year.

"I have nothing to say," was his laconic reply to all queries. Not one more word would he add.

The latest report that the comedian was married came from Randolph Churchill, son of Great Britain's Winston Churchill, who was quoted as saying that he could "definitely say that they are married."

Both Chaplin and Miss Goddard have stubbornly refused to confirm or deny the report for more than a year.

Friends, although inclined to believe the account, have emphasized that they had no first-hand information to support the story that the couple was married secretly. One account has it that the marriage was performed in the comedian's yacht Panacea on June 23, 1934, while a later report told of the ceremony being performed while Chaplin and the brunette actress were on a "round-the-world cruise last year."

WORK OF LEAGUE MAY BE CONTINUED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—(UP)—Labor's Non-Partisan league, formed to sponsor re-election of President Roosevelt, may be continued permanently as a possible nucleus of a new labor or farmer-labor party, it was indicated today when leaders of the group met to consider its future.

Officials of the non-partisan league met secretly to decide whether work of the organization had been completed with re-election of the president, or should be continued, perhaps in slightly altered form.

Present were Maj. George L. Berry, president of the league and head of the printing pressmen's union; John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers and head of the committee for industrial organization, and Sidney Hillman, president of Amalgamated Clothing Workers.

FOOT TORN OFF IN CAR CRASH MILLION GET PAY INCREASES

Tragedy rode the Orange County highways again last night at about the same hour, 8:30 p. m., when automobile-motorcycle and automobile-bicycle collisions sent Margie M. Chapman, 23, 612 North Olive, to Santa Ana Valley hospital with a severed right foot, and an unidentified man of middle age, to the same hospital with fractures and internal injuries which probably will cause his death.

Riding Motorcycle

Miss Chapman was riding on a motorcycle with Ernest L. Norman, general delivery, Orange, when the vehicle collided at Bor-

NAME PROSECUTOR FOR BRIT TRIAL

YREKA, Cal., Nov. 10.—(UP)—The board of supervisors of Siskiyou county today appointed James M. Allen, former state senator, as special prosecutor at the trial of John and Court Brite, who are charged with the slaying of three men, two of them peace officers, on August 30.

The date for the trial has been set tentatively on November 29.

District Attorney James Davis, to whom the Brite brothers surrendered after an extensive and futile manhunt, also announced the appointment of J. P. Corrie as deputy district attorney to handle the case and said he, himself, would not be active at the trial.

Other large automobile companies were expected to announce substantial wage increases and bonuses within the next few days until some 450,000 workers in automobile plants are affected.

NEW COLUMN FIGHTS OFF INSURGENTS

Buildings Set Afire As Nationalists' Planes Shell Capital

MADRID, Nov. 10.—(UP)—Five Nationalist tri-motored planes bombed Madrid late today, causing some casualties. One shell struck the roof of the Cortes (parliament) building.

After this bombing, thick, black smoke arose in a column from the direction of Puerta Del Sol, main square of the city.

House Set Afire

Several bombs fell on the Toledo bridge district in the southwestern part of the city, setting a house afire.

Warning sirens shrieked as the planes flew over the capital from the northwest. The bombers were accompanied by seven pursuit planes.

Nine government fighters appeared to resist them a few minutes after the last bomb was dropped.

Artillery Bombardment

The air bombing was preceded by an artillery bombardment which set fire to a building near the center of town.

Several shells dropped near the Montana barracks, chief military center of Madrid; the national palace and farther north towards the Escorial road.

Official quarters were more optimistic after seeing the militia and a new international column composed of French, German and Russian anti-Fascists withstand vicious enemy attacks in the past 24 hours.

Enemy In Advances

It was admitted, however, that the enemy had advanced in the Casa Del Campo. During the night, heavy machine gun and rifle fire from there could be heard clearly in the center of the city.

Madrid accustomed itself to walking about the dark streets or remaining indoors. Barricades were erected in outlying sections.

Gen. Jose Miaja, head of the emergency defense committee, issued a message to the troops congratulating them on yesterday's "brilliant action."

GOVERNOR TO OPEN VIADUCT

Gov. Frank F. Merriam has accepted the invitation to formally open the big viaduct approaching completion at Newport Beach, it was announced today. Work is being pushed rapidly and in order that plans may be outlined in ample time, P. A. Stanton, member of the California State Highway commission, paid a visit of inspection to the viaduct and called upon the officials of the city of Newport Beach and approved the tentative plans.

The governor will be entertained at luncheon at noon on Saturday, November 28, at the Newport Harbor Yacht club following a tour of inspection of the harbor. At 2:30 in the afternoon the viaduct will be formally opened by the governor. Assisting in the elaborate ceremonies which will mark the event will be a number of prominent state and county citizens and officials. Members of the state highway commission are expected to attend as well as Earl Lee Kelley, head of the department of public works, and Justice E. Cramer, former assistant director, J. P. Greeley, of Balboa, leader in the viaduct movement, will take a prominent part in the celebration.

S. A. Meyer, president of the Newport Harbor Chamber of commerce, will appoint a number of active committees to carry out the details of the opening ceremonies.

IOWA MAN NEW CORN CHAMPION

ALVA OYLER'S FARM, Licking County, O., Nov. 10.—(UP)—Carl Carlson, 38-year-old Iowa farmer, wrote his name high on the pillar reserved for immortal sports figures today when, with more than 100,000 frenzied spectators looking on, he practically wrecked an acre of corn to win the thirteenth annual national corn husking championship.

Carlson actually picked 1540 pounds of corn, but deductions for "gleanings" (the ears he missed) and the weight of the husk left on that he picked, brought it down to 1472.75 net.

EDEN QUANTON TALKS BEFORE PUBLIC FORUM

Mr. C. Eden Quanton of the University of Washington at Seattle, spoke on past-war diplomacy last evening in the high school auditorium. He contended that the move toward a new diplomacy under the leadership of Wilson during the World War had made little headway. A claim was made for "open covenants openly arrived at" but this was repudiated, he said. "There really is no new diplomacy. But the old idea, that a diplomat is a 'sacred cow' immune to birth and superior insight concerning the complex nature of international affairs is pretty well blasted. Diplomats exert clever power by suave movements and dignified procedures but they are very human."

"Through the League of Nations the first world wide effort was made toward collective security and collective responsibility. Economic and military sanctions were provided as a means of coercing disobedient members. This was a magnificent machine but its failure in the recent Italian attack on Ethiopia has shown its weakness. The creation of machinery does not solve the problem. This same problem of securing peace for all arose after the Napoleonic wars one hundred years ago. The difference in the plans of 1815 and 1919 lies chiefly in the character of the men who drew them. The fundamental error of 1919 was that the League as an instrument of peace was coupled with the Versailles Treaty which was a punitive measure. The economic results of this take played Europe and most of the world for twelve years and ended in Germany defaulting and the world depression."

Dr. Quanton then gave a brief but rather complete analysis of the serious disregard of the economic and political realities that are evidenced in the re-mapping of Europe. He said, "How much faith was planned to panacea and too little importance attached to economic and political facts as they react upon human nature. Many sections of Europe are exceedingly unstable—as much so as before 1914."

"Russia, up to the last few weeks has wanted peace because of home interests. But if the press is to be accepted as a source of reliable information on the subject, it would now seem that Russia is ready to face fascism and if so, we may be sure that she has counted the cost. Fascism of the 19th century was but the pale flickering of the candles compared to its glaring lights of today. Europe has accelerated the pace of re-armament in the midst of her cry for peace. The greatest danger faced by the developments of western culture and civilization is in the emergence of fascism."

After announcements were made by Mrs. Neil Crawford, the discussion period was opened by Mrs. Golden Weston who presided. Many interesting insights were thrown upon the subject. Next Monday evening the forum leader in Santa Ana will be Dr. John Brown Mason who has just returned from an extensive study of conditions in France, Germany, Belgium, Switzerland and the Free City of Danzig.

WARNS AGAINST DARE RESISTS OF RADICALISM IN CHURCH HERE

Unless every mature citizen of the United States gives the youth of the nation the right-direction leadership, some radical element will sell radicalism to them and Democracy will fall within a few years, Alonzo Baker, newspaper publisher, member of the American Legion and Kiwanian, told 150 members of the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs at their joint meeting this noon at Green Cafe.

Speaking upon the subject, "Can Democracy Be Preserved and, If So, How?" Baker, resident of Mountain View in Santa Clara county, declared democracy "is in for an awfully tough time of it during the next few years unless we take the effort to preserve it, as seriously as we take the effort to preserve our own lives."

The United States needs a radical revision of its whole civil service system, the speaker said. The sentiment at present, among most voters is that anyone engaging in politics is either crooked or has a "pull" and the reason for that sentiment is we are operating under the "gravy" system instead of the merit system, he added.

"When the government in England changes hands, but 10 persons change jobs," Baker pointed out. "The last time but 47 changed jobs. Every time the government changes hands, 250,000 persons lose their jobs and 250,000 others get new jobs. It's the spoils system under which we operate."

"In England, young people study for a political career, at school, are apprenticed out and begin a lifetime of service for their government," he continued. "That results in the efficiency England's government has and in respect to it. The minute we begin losing respect for our government, we have rough, turbulent times which will eventually lead us to revolution such as we see in Spain."

"We must get hold of the young people and enlist them in a crusade for democracy. They want to be led—it is up to us to give them the right kind of direction." He referred to the revolutions in Russia, Italy and Germany, in which youth were led to upset the governments and gain control.

"Young people of America are thinking strange thoughts nowadays," Baker declared. "If someone sells radicalism to them, something is going to happen—and the radicals are going to get them if we don't. The radicals are already here. Another important need is for us to have open discussions on all forms of government."

"We won't get anywhere if we do not let the people hear about radicalism and all other forms of government, however much bunk they may be. One of the worst things which ever happened recently, was the other day when Earl Browder, Communist candidate for president, was barred at Terra Haute, Ind., from speaking over the radio system. I hate Communism—it's a delusion—but nevertheless I feel the country will fall for radicalism quicker if we try to hide it. We also must be careful not to permit the rise of minority blocs by which, as in Germany, 2 per cent of the people were able to gain control of the government. And we must, above all, do our own thinking if we would keep democracy. In a true democracy, every man is king but wears no crown."

Baker said the nation will go Fascist in 15, 25 or 50 years unless we do something about leading our children in the right direction.

The high school glee club, led by Herbert G. Bickel, head of the music department, furnished entertainment with several songs appropriate to Armistice Day. Dr. Melbourne Mabee was program chairman, and introduced the speaker.

SPENCER, JOHNSON RETURN TO WIVES

SHORT CREEK, Ariz., Nov. 10.—(UP)—Price Johnson and I. C. Spencer, who went to prison because they believed in and practiced polygamy, returned to their homes in this isolated, desolate little community today.

Johnson insisted that his 10 months in state prison in Florence had not altered his belief in plural marriage. He held rigidly to the tenets of the United Order of Brethren, an offshoot of the Latter Day Saints (Mormon) faith. He and his co-religionists have been excommunicated from the Mormon church because that body now bans polygamy.

Spencer, in ill health, some time ago promised the state board of pardons and paroles, from whom he sought clemency, that he would obey the law and would not resume polygamous relations.

A federal district court is said to have acquitted him in the case, today's proceedings being instituted under state laws. Deputy District Attorney J. E. Walker appears for the state, with Attorney L. W. Blodgett for the defense.

LABOR SECRETARY SPEAKS ON LAWS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—(UP)—Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins told the Third Conference on Labor Legislation today that "more and better labor laws had been passed since the inauguration of New Deal than in any previous three years of American history."

Miss Perkins said the extent of the new acts "was made largely possible because of the co-operation between the United States department of labor and the state labor departments."

FATHERS, SONS HOLD BANQUET IN CHURCH HERE

Forty-three fathers and sons gathered at the United Brethren church, West Third and Shelton streets, Monday evening for the annual Father and Son Banquet which was paid for, prepared by, cooked and served in regular banquet style by the men of the Brotherhood.

Father and Son songs were sung with Mr. Herbert Thomas, of the local Y. M. C. A., at the piano. Rev. Johnson led the singing. Special musical numbers on piano, harmonica and violin were given by Charles R. Imm and C. C. Dennie.

The address of the evening was given by Judge Kenneth Morrison who spoke on "Crime, Its Causes and Remedy." He pointed out particularly, that the home and its environment has most to do with forming the foundation of character; that all other agencies—the school, the church, the state come to supplement and aid the fathers and mothers in giving to the world good, reliable citizens in their boys and girls.

The banquet, the program and the address were pronounced by all as a great success.

The next regular meeting of the Brotherhood will be on Monday evening, November 16, when the men will have charge of all the opening devotional service of the Preaching Mission service in the local church.

The purpose of the meeting, sponsored by the Orange County Coast Association and the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange County, will be the appointment of a county-wide committee to conduct a complete study of the water situation in Orange county and the possibility of obtaining an increased supply for the future.

Negro on Trial In Narcotic Case

Trial of the case of Jesse Connor, colored, on 10 counts charging him with violation of the state narcotic act, involving falsifying morphine prescriptions, was the first duty placed before the new trial jury panel in Superior Judge G. K. Scovel's court today.

Connor is accused of obtaining the 10-grain morphine prescriptions from Dr. J. W. Truxaw, of Anaheim, then "raising" them to 15 or 20 grains before having them filled at the Henry Brothers drug store, in Anaheim.

A federal district court is said to have acquitted him in the case, today's proceedings being instituted under state laws. Deputy District Attorney J. E. Walker appears for the state, with Attorney L. W. Blodgett for the defense.

chard and Ross streets with an automobile driven by Leonard Hawkins, 902 Fairview. After the crash, in which Miss Chapman's right foot was severed just above the ankle, the Hawkins car ran into a lamp post, causing injuries to Hawkins and his two companions, Katherine Vanderhorst of 902 Fairview, and Helen Vanderhorst of Fifth and Newhope streets.

Norman escaped with minor injuries. Katherine Vanderhorst suffered broken ribs, cut and bruises; Helen Vanderhorst, cuts and bruises, for which they were treated at St. Joseph hospital. Officers Ed Lentz, William Nielsen, Charles Neer, Roy Hartley, W. B. Moreland and L. C. Rogers investigated and rendered first aid. Miss Chapman's condition was reported "good" today.

Car Hits Bicycle
The unidentified man, still unconscious, was riding a bicycle on Coast highway two miles north of San Clemente, near Serra, when a car operated, according to reports to California highway patrol officers, by either Dewey Killen, 25, marine, of Long Beach, or his wife, Ethel, 24, ran into him, smashing the bicycle and knocking the rider unconscious.

Killen and his wife both were arrested on felony charges of drunk driving; should the unidentified bicyclist die—his condition is critical—negligent homicide charges probably will be filed against the automobile driver. Chief Wendell Lovell of San Clemente, who arrested the couple and held them for four hours at the police station, said Killen told him that Mrs. Killen was not driving but that he was at the wheel. Both were booked at county jail.

The smashed bicycle was found by Chief Lovell one block north of the Palisades tavern on Coast highway after the accident. The chief was quoted as stating the Killens stopped after the accident and took the bicyclist to Marie's cafe in Doheny Park. A physician pronounced the Killens "very drunk."

Driver Sentenced
Rafael Gomez, 26, Garden Grove, whose car collided on West Fifth at the Santa Ana river bridge, Sunday, with a car operated by Edna H. Smith, 32, Santa Ana, with injury to Gomez, was sentenced this morning by Judge Kenneth Morrison in Santa Ana justice court, to serve four months in the county jail.

Cars operated along Center street, Orange, near the 200-block, by J. A. Green, 218 South Center, and C. O. Powell, 182 North Cambridge, yesterday afternoon, collided without injury to the drivers, Officer John Eklitte reported.

Accidental Death
At Brown and Wagner Funeral chapel this morning, a jury in charge of Coroner Earl Abbey found that the collision in Orange a week ago, which resulted in the death last Saturday night of Arthur L. Curry, 19, Tustin, was "accidental."

The jury exonerated Rafael Gomez, 60, Orange, of blame in the accident which resulted when his car collided with Curry's motorcycle. While F. L. Newton, Pomona, was driving north along Main street near Delhi road at 5 a. m. today, he fell asleep at the wheel and ran into a tree, injuring himself and passenger, August Rath, Pomona, he told city police. Newton suffered cuts about the face; Rath was bruised and scratched.

PLEADS GUILTY TO TRAFFIC CHARGES
Pleading guilty to a charge of operating an automobile while his driver's license was suspended or revoked, Guadalupe Lopez, 312 Central avenue, Delhi, was held without bail, at county jail, by Judge Kenneth Morrison, sitting in Santa Ana justice court, pending judgment which will be given Friday.

Lopez, convicted of felony drunk driving after an accident in which a person was injured, and after serving a 90-day jail term, applied for a new operator's license, the first one having been taken from him by court order. Lopez applied for and obtained the new license under the name of "Jerry" Lopez, he said.

Freed on Burglary Charge But Draws Prison Sentence
Harry McElroy, accused of a burglary at Huntington Beach, and defended by Congressman Sam L. Collins, was absolved of the burglary yesterday by Superior Judge James L. Allen, but a prior offense arose out of his past to send him to prison anyway.

Judge Allen sentenced McElroy to Folsom for a term of 1 to 14 years for passing a worthless check, McElroy having been held on the check charge several years ago.

COUPLE UNITED AT ATTRACTIVE CHURCH RITES

OLIVE, Nov. 10.—Miss Selma Hoffman, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. W. F. Hoffman of Escondido and Lester Heman, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Heman of Olive, were married at the Lutheran church in Escondido Saturday evening with the Rev. L. Jaegels reading the impressive ceremony.

The church was decorated with palms and baskets of yellow and white dahlias. Candelabras holding white tapers were placed on each side of the altar.

Miss Helen Jaegels gave a program of organ music before the ceremony and she also accompanied Mrs. W. F. Jaegels who sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride walked to the altar down an aisle of lights, a gleaming taper being set on each aisle post. She entered the church with her father who gave her in marriage. Her gown was of white satin fashioned on long lines and her floor length veil was caught in a cap effect with sprays of orange blossoms.

Russell Heman, small nephew of the bridegroom, dressed in a cunning double-breasted suit was ring bearer, carrying the wedding ring on a white satin pillow. Mrs. Alfred Eden, sister of the bride, in green taffeta and carrying a shower bouquet of chrysanthemums, sweet peas and dahlias, was matron of honor and Mrs. William Heman and Mrs. Rude Heman, sisters-in-law of the bridegroom were other attendants. They were dressed alike in tea rose pink water-grain taffeta, carrying bouquets similar to that of the matron of honor. Little Doreen Timken, niece of the bridegroom, dressed in blue taffeta trimmed in pink was flower girl and she carried a white basket with sweet peas. William Heman of Orange served his brother as best man and Martin Heman and Arnold Hoffman were ushers.

Mrs. Hoffman, mother of the bride, wore a green frock and a gardenia corsage, and Mrs. Heman, the bridegroom's mother, wore a black and white ensemble with a gardenia corsage.

A reception for 50 guests was held immediately after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. A yellow and white color scheme was carried out with streamers above the tables, yellow napkins, and baskets of yellow and white flowers. A three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, which was baked by the best man, formed the centerpiece for the bride's table. The bride made the traditional first cut in the cake.

After the reception, the newlyweds left for Maywood where they will make their home. The bride chose for her going away outfit a brown crepe dress with which she wore green accessories. Mr. Heman is employed with the Los Angeles Railway company in Los Angeles and he and his bride have many friends in Olive and Orange.

Model Airplane Meet Curtailed
High winds that made the flying of model airplanes almost impossible, were responsible for shortening the competition sponsored at Eddie Martin airport last Sunday by the Santa Ana Junior Birdmen. One event, however, the free for all open, was held because of the many entrants who had brought their models here from other cities.

First place in this contest went to Laurence Presser of Santa Ana whose plane made a flight of three minutes before being lost to sight. Second place went to Tom Engelman of Santa Ana with a time of 1:15 minutes while Andrew Peterson of Los Angeles took third place with a flight record of 1:15 minutes.

It was a costly day for many of the entrants as the high wind made it difficult for them to handle their models, many of them which were demolished.

SENATOR ASKS DIGEST QUIZ IN HIGH SCHOOL

"The Literary Digest had guessed correctly the results of three previous elections, and these guesses, each following the other, led many American voters to believe that the Literary Digest had some uncanny system of tests which could be depended upon to forecast accurately the results of an approaching election. That it had no such system was clearly proved by its recent poll."

Seeks Supervision
"Any newspaper or magazine conducting such a poll, before being allowed to publish partial or final results, should have federal supervisory body composed of active and intelligent partisans of the parties participating in the election; and no newspaper or magazine should be permitted to publish the returns of any pre-election poll until its fairness and correctness are passed upon by such bi-partisan or multi-partisan board."

Any nationwide pre-election tests or polls should hereafter be conducted under the strict supervision of the federal government."

WITHCOMBE WILL CLEARED BY JUDGE

Ambiguous phrasing of a will left by the late Ella B. Withcombe, of Stanton, was construed yesterday by Superior Judge James L. Allen to mean that she left a life estate interest in a dwelling and furniture to C. J. Laughlin, of Midway City, but that other property, including a 4 per cent oil royalty in Huntington Beach property and a $300 note, was willed outright to McLaughlin.

The dwelling and furniture go to Mabel May Pollock, a sister, residing at Downey, at Laughlin's death.

Mrs. Pollock raised the question whether the clause referring to the dwelling and furniture also included the $300 note and the oil royalty, but the court decided that such was not the case.

DEATH NOTICES

A WORD OF COMFORT

Conforming to your environment is not enough; you must transform your environment by your attitude toward it. A faithless man is easily broken by an experience which will deepen and strengthen you since you hold firmly to your belief that God loves you and your dear ones. You cannot see into tomorrow, but you know that it is to be self for it. You refuse to permit the burdens and heartaches of today to wrench the peace from the faith that you are empowered of God to triumph over weakness and to live into a splendid manhood.

STATE C. OF C. PLANS MEET IN SAN FRANCISCO

At the call of A. J. McFadden, of Santa Ana, chairman of the statewide agricultural committee of the California State Chamber of Commerce, agriculturists from all parts of Southern California will assemble in San Francisco November 19 and 20, to attend the sessions of the eleventh annual meeting of the state chamber.

With every county of the state represented, the two-day meeting will be given over to discussion of current agricultural and economic problems. During the first day group meetings on agriculture, highways, industry, conservation, taxation and governmental expenditures, and publicity and winter sports will be held. Recommendations growing out of these group sessions will be presented to the state chamber board of directors, which will meet in an open all-day session on November 20.

One of the features of the agricultural program will be a discussion of chain store practices affecting agriculture, by C. C. Teague, of Santa Paula. Teague, past president of the state chamber, recently met with owners of 30,000 chain stores in New York, and he will report the findings of this group to the state chamber.

H. L. Strobel, of Salinas, will talk on the recent agricultural labor disturbances in that area, and steps will be considered to meet new situations arising in the farm labor problem.

Other agricultural authorities who will appear on the program will include Prof. R. L. Adams, of Berkeley, who will discuss farm labor developments of 1935; Dr. O. C. Stine, U. S. D. A., recently returned from Russia, speaking on agricultural practices in Russia; S. Parker Frisselle of Fresno, on duplicate dairy inspection; and C. J. Carey of the State Division of Markets, reporting on marketing agreements and practices. The agricultural section will also hear Carl H. Fritzsche, managing director of the Farm Chemurgic Council, of Dearborn, Michigan.

AIRPORT LEASE PROTESTED BY EDDIE MARTIN

The ten-year lease granted by the county to Floyd Wright, upon the county's 160-acre airport site close by the Eddie Martin airport, was given upon the misunderstanding by the supervisors that the Martin airport was going out of business, members of the board declared today when Martin appeared before them to inquire why the competitive airport was being permitted so close by.

Supervisor N. E. West, who had brought the lease proposition before the board, which authorized it a week ago, had been informed he said that Martin's airport would be discontinued because the South Main street extension, now under construction, would cut through his field.

Other members of the board said they had accepted the situation as represented by Supervisor West, and granted the lease to Wright on the representation that there would be no airport service unless the county field was leased.

Martin was absent from the county, he made known today, when the arrangements were made. He said he had not been aware that Wright, who has been operating the Martin airport under a sublease from Martin, was contemplating such a move in competition with him.

Supervisor Jerome expressed regret that the lease had been executed, under the circumstances, and expressed hope that, if any way could be found, the situation would be restored to its former status. He expressed appreciation for the type of service Martin has rendered at his airport, and said the board had no intention of rewarding it by providing competition for him.

Other members of the board agreed with this view.

Henderson Nearly Buys Snow Plow

Mr. Superintendent Henderson, of the Santa Ana schools, almost bought a snowplow yesterday.

It was timely salesmanship on somebody's part.

The superintendent sat at his desk, with a hot desert wind blowing across his favored brow.

The letter he chanced to open at the moment was from an eastern manufacturer, who wanted to sell snowplows to the Santa Ana schools.

It was something about getting the sidewalks cleared of snow.

"Wouldn't that be swell," murmured the superintendent, liking the idea.

"Wouldn't it be great to get the sidewalks cleared of snow? Today, I mean."

He went through certain enthusiastic motions, and his secretary ducked in alarm.

"I was throwing snowballs," he explained, mopping his brow.

Then he dropped the snowplow letter into the wastebasket.

That's Al Hoffman, one of Lerner's associates, beaming on the happy pair.

POLITICAL FORUM TO DEBATE CONGRESS, SUPREME COURT

Should Congress have the right to annul Supreme Court decisions by a three-fourths majority vote? That question will be discussed tonight at 8 in the Santa Ana junior college building, 917 North Main, at the Forum for Political and Economic Education, James Anderson, program chairman, announced today.

The debate subject will be "Resolved, That Congress Shall Have the Right to Annul Supreme Court Decisions by a Three-Fourths Majority," with Miss Julia Budlong, pastor of the Unitarian church, taking the affirmative and Robert Farrar, instructor in social sciences at Santa Ana high school, the negative.

"During the next few years, this subject will be discussed widely throughout the United States," Anderson said. "Many people feel the supreme court should not have its unlimited power to annul laws which are passed by the people's representatives. It is a real question of whether or not some fundamental human rights cannot be decided by the majority."

A general discussion period will follow the debate and guests may speak upon the subject or question the debaters, Anderson declared. The public is invited to attend, without charge.

MARRIAGE BY PROXY BEING PROBED HERE

A new kind of "marriage by proxy" was being investigated today by Assistant District Attorney James L. Davis for possible criminal elements, when it was brought to light that friends of Francis Ray McCormick, 18, and Elia Mae Christy, 15, Lawndale couple, had obligingly impersonated them for the purpose of obtaining the marriage licenses.

The proxy bride and groom, whose identity is known to the authorities, made two visits to the local marriage license bureau, once on October 21, to file notice of intention to marry, and again on October 31, to obtain the license. Both times they signed the names of McCormick and Miss Christy, it is stated, and gave the boy's age as 21 and the girl's as 18.

After obtaining the license, they handed it over to the real bride and groom, who made use of it. The youthful pair had lived together a week when the bride's father, Clarence Christy, located them. He brought them to Santa Ana today and laid the case before Davis.

HERBERT LEGG IS SPEAKER AT BOURBON RALLY

Declaring that the Democratic victory in the general election was one of the outstanding features of the campaign in California, Supervisor Herbert C. Legg, spoke last night to more than 400 guests at the Victory dinner held in American Legion hall under auspices of the Orange County Democratic Campaign Committee.

In his talk Legg made a plea for party unity and expressed his joy over the fact that there were so many Republicans present at the affair. He said that, in his mind, the election this year and the overwhelming victory of President Franklin D. Roosevelt marked the dissolution of both the Democratic and Republican party system.

In the future, he said, it is his opinion that the gradual trend will be toward a vote between the mass of people and small selfish majorities.

H. C. Head, chairman of the Democratic Campaign committee in Santa Ana, was chairman of the evening and B. Z. McKinney, served as master of ceremonies.

McKinney introduced Congressman-elect Harry Sheppard, State Senator-elect Harry Westover, State Assemblyman-elect Clyde Watson, from the Seventy-fourth District; Assemblyman-elect Thomas Kuchel, of the Seventy-fifth district, Harry D. Riley, supervisor-elect from the Third district, Jimmie Heffron, Thomas McFadden, candidates for office in the recent election and Steele Finley, who was elected supervisor from this district. Finley, however, was not present.

The candidates-elect all spoke briefly. In addition to introducing the successful candidates McKinney introduced Mrs. Ora K. Heine and several other active workers in the recent campaign.

Following the dinner a musical program was presented under direction of Joe Peterson and dancing ended the evening.

Dinner was served to 325 guests and it was estimated that more than 100 additional guests arrived after the dinner hour.

DEAL FOR FARM BUREAU HOME IS IN ESCROW

Orange County Farm Bureau's proposed purchase of the property at 353 South Main street, Orange, has gone into escrow, according to R. D. Flaherty, executive secretary of the organization.

The property, located just north of the Santiago street bridge and outside the northern city limits of Santa Ana, includes two lots already improved with a building which will be used to house offices of the Farm Bureau. The property is being purchased for approximately $6000 with an additional expenditure for construction of an assembly hall being anticipated.

Decision to purchase the property was made last Thursday at the annual meeting of the farm bureau directors. At that time they accepted the recommendation of the building committee to take up an option held at that time for the property.

How soon the Farm Bureau will occupy its new quarters is still a matter to be decided Flaherty said today. At present the organization has a lease on its quarters in Medical building, on North Main street, Santa Ana, that will not expire until May first. At the same time the present tenant of the property being purchased has a lease on the property which has more than a year to run.

However, it was pointed out, the Farm Bureau is holding an option on this lease. It has been suggested that the bureau probably would exercise this option approximately April 1 and move into the property. In addition, the committee to take up the option held at that time for the property.

Necessary minor changes and repairs in the building.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—These are hectic days for the public! It seems like we just get over the ordeal of making a decision about the kind of president we want, when the auto manufacturers bring out their new models, and start their campaign speeches. . . . Funny thing about prosperity! The country no sooner gets back on its feet, than it wants to get off of them and sit in the driver's seat.

However, this looks like it really ought to be a terrific year for new car sales. . . . After what happened to so many politicians, the public should realize that it can't get anywhere by taking a walk.

Of course, while the new models are greatly improved, I still don't think they have the getaway of that New Deal machine.

From what I've heard, it seems as though the manufacturers might as well do away with the rear-view mirror. Since Roosevelt was re-elected, everybody is now looking forward.

P. G. A. MEMBERS TO SHOOT FOR $200,000

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—(UP)—Members of the Professional Golfers' association will shoot for $200,000 in prizes in 1937, Robert Harlow, tournament bureau manager, announced today as the P. G. A. opened its annual winter meeting.

Harlow said professional golfers won $157,745 in 1936 meetings. The same meetings will be held next year and, in addition, there may be other tournaments, including a $25,000 event between Lawson Little, former amateur champion, and the winner of the Pinehurst tournament next week, Harlow said.

A hornbill, in flight, sounds like an airplane.

JOHN HENRY LEWIS CHALLENGES CHAMP

LONDON, Nov. 10.—(UP)—Light Heavyweight Champion John Henry Lewis will follow up his successful title defense against Len Harvey with a challenge to fight Jim Braddock for the heavyweight crown. It was learned authoritatively today.

The challenge, however, will be a mere gesture because Braddock is under iron-bound contract to both Madison Square Garden and Mike Jacobs of the 20th Century Sporting club to fight Max Schmeling next June in the first defense of his championship won from Maxie Baer June 13, 1935.

The New York state athletic commission would not favor such a meeting even if Braddock wanted to fight Lewis, and the California Negro is under suspension in all National Boxing association states.

Lewis had little trouble disposing of the veteran Harvey before a capacity crowd in Wembley pool arena last night. Harvey won only the first round. But the long, lashing blows of Lewis weakened the Britisher as the fight wore on, and he never was in danger. He stood flat-footed in the middle of the ring and letted Harvey mercilessly every time he came in range, but he never was able to knock the game Englishman down.

Lewis weighed 173 1-2, Harvey 172.

BELLOISE STOPS CASTILLO

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 10.—(UP)—Mike Belloise, 138, New York claimant to the world featherweight championship, scored a first round technical knockout over Frankie Castillo, 130, at Eastside arena last night. The New York battler dropped Castillo five times.

FIX THAT COLD

And Fix It Right—Depend on No Mere Half-way Measures!

A cold neglected may be a cold regretted! Many a "slight" cold has ended in flu and pneumonia. Treat a cold quickly and treat it sensibly. Forego "cure-alls". A cold calls for a cold treatment and not a preparation good for all kinds of ailments. A cold also calls for internal treatment, for a cold is an internal infection. Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is what you want for a cold. First, it is a cold tablet, made expressly for the treatment of colds and nothing else. Secondly, it is internal medication, fourfold in effect. Here's what it does: First, it opens the bowels, an advisable step in treating a cold. Second, it checks the infection in the system, a vital step. Third, it relieves the headache and fever.

That prompt treatment will usually stop a cold in 24 hours and that's the speed of action you want. Be prudent, be careful! At the first signs of a cold, go right to your druggist for a package of Bromo Quinine. Begin taking the tablets immediately, two every four hours.

Bromo Quinine contains nothing harmful and is safe to take. Get these famous cold tablets at any drug store, and insist upon getting what you ask for.

The few pennies' cost may save you a lot of expense and worry.

HE BREATHES CLEANER AIR —indoors and out— BECAUSE OF NATURAL GAS

CLEAN AIR, inside and out, is one of the pleasant and healthful advantages of living in Southern California. Natural gas makes it possible.

No chimney in a home using natural gas heat exclusively ever smoked. Natural gas is all heat—clean and smokeless. Every city and every village in Southern California (thousands of farm homes, too) is cleaner than any place you ever saw where people must use other fuels.

When you heat or cook or run your water-heater with natural gas you are using not only a clean fuel but the quickest, most convenient, and most economical.

Your gas company or dealer will be glad to show you the newest appliances. Ask for a thorough inspection of all the surprising features of the modern gas range.

JUST twenty years ago! It does not seem such a long time to us who lived through it all. It doesn't seem that there ever was a war, with millions of young Americans recruited to fight for the peace of all nations. It doesn't seem right that there were hundreds....thousands....who couldn't come back and live anew, and know the joys of family life found again. For those who are gone we can only saythey died not in vain....for our country has gone on to glorious progress and achievement for twenty years of peace. And to those who are living....we say....yours is a better life, because of what they fought for. Today we honor the men who fought for an ideal, and join in the prayer that their ideal will continue in its fulfillment long after today's little children have grown to manhood and womanhood.

REPORT L. A. GAME AS ROSE BOWL RIVAL!

By HARRY GRAYSON

EVANSTON, Nov. 10. — Lynn Waldorf was known as a November coach when he assumed command of Northwestern's football forces last year. In eight seasons his clubs have lost only two contests in November.

"I guess I never have learned to bring a team to top form soon enough. It is one of those things that I must get around to doing," remarked Waldorf, when on Nov. 2 of last year his Wildcats lived up to their coach's reputation by beating Illinois after having lost to Purdue, Ohio State, and Minnesota.

Waldorf seems to have corrected his one fault, for Northwestern hasn't been repelled since.

LYNN WALDORF
You Would Like Him Coach Your Son.

But Waldorf plainly found a way of making haste more rapidly in an easy manner. Beating mighty Minnesota and being in the position of protecting the foremost position in football hasn't altered the practice of the Northwestern array. It still is a bunch of kids having a lot of fun, with their coaches enjoying the sport as much as the do.

ONE OF THE BOYS
Waldorf was throwing passes for the Northwestern freshmen against the varsity. The 250-pound chap who played so much tackle at Syracuse isn't the most accomplished passer in the world, but he can throw. Ollie Adelman, Fred Vanzo, and the others were

NAGURSKI WAS WELL NAMED

Parents Inspired When They Called Him Bronco

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—I meant to write today about the Fordham Rams, and how in beating the Purduees they were just about the toughest molesters these old eyes have ever looked on, but I can't because Sunday I went to the Polo Grounds and saw a guy who is tougher than all the Fordhams put together.

That's a lotta sentence. But the guy I saw, Brother Bronco Nagurski, is a lotta football player and deserves lotta sentence. Put it up to the New York Giants and they undoubtedly would give him a 99-year sentence, for the Bronco gave them the pure and simple works. And he wasn't subtle about it, either. Following the same formula he has employed for—let's see, he was a senior at Minnesota in '29, so he has been lugging that leather for going on 10 years—he just ducked his head, threw his 235 pounds, but high gear, and started churning forward.

The Register's FOOTBALL CONTEST

(Enter as many ballots as desired; it's free. Mark where designated with X or write TIE if you think that will be the result. Ballots must be mailed or delivered to Sports Editor, The Register, before Friday.)

First Place, $5; Second place, $2.50. In the event of ties, awards are added and divided equally.

'TARZAN' ZIM LONE CASUALTY OF MAT QUAKE

BY PAUL VISSMAN

Arousing from a sleep that resembled a stupor, "Tarzan" Zim asked his best friends "how many were killed in the earthquake last night?"

And even his best friends told him! Their story was "that was no earthquake; that was Kiman Kudo and you were the only casualty."

Zim and Kudo wrestled the main event at the Orange County Athletic club with Zim getting bounced off his rumbly seat so many times he is suffering from concussion of the brain. Kudo took the first fall in 25-10 minutes with a "Japanese hiplock and arm-strangle."

During the rest period, Zim precipitated a near riot among the spectators when a slap-happy youth known as "Tiger" Franks handed him a pair of trunks, apparently to be used in strangling Kudo the next time out. One of the fans grabbed the trunks and Zim attempted to go out into the crowd and retrieve them. An enthusiastic bug pelting Zim with a sand-filled sack and the Hollywood "Tarzan" retaliated by hurling the sand into Kudo's face.

After a session of kicking, gouging and other such tactics, Zim took the second fall in 10:07 after slugging the Japanese through the ropes and leaping into the ring with a body slam.

The third and deciding fall went to Kudo in 8:49 with a repetition of the Japanese hiplock and arm strangle that made Zim surrender. Before taking the fall Kudo gave Zim one of the prettiest legal shelling-lings a wrestler has ever received at the Crime Club.

Casey Colombo failed to show up for the semi-windup with Brother Jonathan, in spite of the fact that the match was delayed until after the main go. Ignacio Martinez, a rather clever stranger to O. C. A. fans, returned to the arena, after winning a preliminary, and wrestled a 30-minute draw with the "Brother."

Leo Papiano lost to Al Baffert, on a foul in 25:40. "Tiger" Franks, who turned out to be a tame kitty, was defeated in 1:15 by Ignacio Martinez. Martinez used a body-slam to defeat Franks after bouncing him on his back porch more times than a tennis ball is bounced in a tournament.

That 210-pound San Juan Capistrano youth, Bill Magee, has done a sweet job of replacing the unforgettable Al Duval as Loyola's left tackle. Magee is something of an iron man, having played 300 minutes in six games this year. Against the College of Pacific, "Big Bill" turned in a 60-minute performance, the first such feat since

DON CENTERS HURT; DE SMET TRIES JOB

Turning into the most important part of Santa Ana Jaycee's football schedule, Coach Bill Cook today found himself down to his third string center.

Don DeSmet, the star at the spot, his regular nominess at the spot, are on the shelf. Holmes showed up for practice yesterday with a stiff neck and Minder is still favoring a knee that was painfully injured in the Pomona game last week.

Fred Lentz, halfback, and Coach John Lehnhardt also are on the hospital list. Lentz has a cold, Lehnhardt a sore hand.

Dan Boyd, the watch-charm kid from Occena, played center with the first string yesterday. He and Gordon West are the only centers left, and West did not show up.

Coach Cook has ordered Dick DeSmet, one of his handy-ands, to learn the pivotal assignments. An all-Coast league guard at Santa Ana hi, DeSmet has played almost every other position except center.

Tuning up for the Riverside game, the Jaycees Friday night, Cook will send his squad through a practice session in the Bowl tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock.

DON CARAVAN OF 100 CARS TO INVAD RIVERSIDE

More than 100 cars are expected to join a Santa Ana junior college automobile caravan to Riverside Friday night for the Don-Bengal game.

The caravan will leave the front of College hall on the North Main street campus promptly at 5:30, according to Vic Rowland, president of the Associated Students. Rowland said the public is invited to join the students.

WHITTIER'S GOLFERS DEFEAT WILLOWICK

Willowick's golf team lost some valuable ground to Whittier's women's team yesterday, dropping a close series at Whittier, 71-2 points to 41-2. Willowick's next match will be here with Long Beach. The summary:

Mrs. Chas. Chapman and Mrs. Harry Woodington (W); Mrs. Marjory Burkhardt and Mrs. George Ellis (Whittier) 3 points.

Mrs. Cliff Miller and Mrs. Pearl Adams (W) 1 1/2; Mrs. Ann Potts and Mrs. Ivy McClurkin (Whittier) 1 1/2 points.

Mrs. A. H. Bradley and Mrs. Sidney Harris (W) 0; Mrs. Julia McHenry and Mrs. Bessie Koontz (Whittier) 2.

WEST WINDS

Here and There in Local Sport

By EDDIE WEST

Was Willard Dolman, the California end, on one knee when he lateraled a pass to Bob Herwig for a touchdown against Southern California last Saturday?

Did Johnny Meek legitimately catch a forward pass during the Bears' third-quarter victory march, or was the ball "trapped?"

Nobody knows for sure. But in Santa Ana Thursday night, alumni of California and Southern California will gather at the Y. M. C. A. for a joint study of the motion pictures of the thrilling contest. The movies to be projected at full length in slow motion, should reveal the innermost secrets of the two controversial plays.

John Lutz, prominent U. C. alum, is bringing the pictures here and extends an invitation to S. C. alumni to view them, too. They will be screened promptly at 7:30 and will run about an hour.

Suffering from a broken hand, memento of the Whittier game two weeks ago, Bob Spurgeon is out of Pomona college's lineup for the season. That's a long time because this is the Santa Ana's final year as a Pomona end.

Popular Jimmie Heffron is back at his old sports desk at the Anaheim Bulletin. The veteran scrivener has been editorially inactive since last winter when he was severely injured in an automobile accident.

Marjorie Lauderbach has no intention of terminating her tennis career when she marries Walter Blair in March.

"On the contrary," says the winsome little Santa Ana, "I probably shall play more tennis than ever before. Mr. Blair is a fine player, you know, and we expect to enter all the tournaments possible."

Blair is a husky Corona player, well known in Citrus Belt tennis circles.

Miss Lauderbach is attending U. C. L. A. but will quit college next semester. Her tennis has improved tremendously in the past year and she now is one of the ranking players in Southern California. As Mrs. Walter Blair, she may invade the east next summer for some of the important U. S. competition.

The Eastern Jaycee conference introduced a 7:30 starting hour for its nocturnal football games "in order that the young folk could get home earlier." So last Friday, first night of the 7:30 contest, the Dons scheduled a post-game dance.

'Y' CAGERS TO 80,000 TO SEE BEGIN NOV. 30 CADETS, RISH

That both the Santa Ana Commercial and Church basketball leagues will have a full quota of quints again this winter was apparent today following an organization assembly at the Y. M. C. A. last night when Monday, Nov. 30 was set as "get-away day."

There is room for eight commercial teams, according to Secretary Ralph Smedley, and already 11 organizations have evinced interest in acquiring franchises. They are the Santa Ana Elks, Majestic Malt shop, Scottie's Malt shop, Southern Counties Gas company, Penhall Brothers of Westminster, Laguna Beach, Uti Juice company, Japanese Red Devils, Costa Mesa, Shell Oil company and the Excelsior creamery.

Represented at the Church league meeting were the South Methodists, Church of the Nazarene, United Brethren, Christian Advent of Tustin and the Church of the Brethren. The First Christians and Christian Missionary Alliance are "uncertain." The Latter Day Saints, undefeated champions last season, probably will not defend their title.

A meeting open only to managers will be held next Monday night. At that time all teams must definitely enter or withdraw.

Church games will be played Mondays and Tuesdays, Commercial contests on Wednesdays and Thursdays. Starting Nov. 30, the season will extend through December, January and February. If there is enough demand, Secretary Smedley says a county-wide invitational tournament will be promoted early in March. The "Y" floor will be open for practice games through the week beginning Nov. 23.

ROBINSON AT FULL IN SAINT PRACTICE

Sophomore Bernard (Barney) Robinson took over the first string fullback position with Santa Ana's Saints yesterday as Coach Bill Foote deemed his squad through a long scrimmage in preparation for Saturday's Coast league conflict at Poly field with Herbert Hoover high school of San Diego.

The squad's two cripples, End Mitsuo Nitta and Guard Lyle Moyer, both appear in good shape. They ran plays with the first string, which lined up with Nitta and Stump at end; Milligan, Wall and Stewart at tackle; Moyer and Maddock at guard, Warhurst at center, Tucker and Kadowaki alternating at quarter, Stafford and Nott at halves, and Robinson at full.

The Saints probably will practice tomorrow morning rather than in the afternoon.

WHITTIER'S GOLFERS DEFEAT WILLOWICK

Willowick's golf team lost some valuable ground to Whittier's women's team yesterday, dropping a close series at Whittier, 71-2 points to 41-2. Willowick's next match will be here with Long Beach. The summary:

Mrs. Chas. Chapman and Mrs. Harry Woodington (W); Mrs. Marjory Burkhardt and Mrs. George Ellis (Whittier) 3 points.

WANTED

SAN DIEGO AND STEVEDORES IN LEGION TUSSELE

Hardy Longshoremen from San Pedro and tough Dons from San Diego scheduled light workouts today in preparation for their Armistice Day football feature in Santa Ana's Municipal Bowl tomorrow at 2:30.

Afternoon attraction of the annual Orange County Legionnaires' celebration, the conflict matches two of the best professional eleven in Southern California. They have taken the measure of all other independent teams and played a 6-0 thriller when they met each other in San Diego several weeks ago. That tussle was decided in the last quarter.

The Dons are handled by Herb Corriere, well known San Diego

With Lon Warneke the property of St. Louis, Frank Demaree, shown taking a healthy cut at the ball, is the Chicago Cub most sought by National league clubs willing to cooperate with Philip K. The Bruins offer the Cardinals Bill Lee, "Tex" Carleton, Roy Henshaw, Walter Stephenson, and either Augie Galan or Woody English for "Dizzy" Dean, but the Cards demand Demaree, Charley Grimm would swap Lee, Stanley Hack, and "Tuck" Stainback to Cincinnati for Paul Deringer, Ival Goodman, and Lew Riggs, but the Reds insist upon Demaree.

Pigskin Paragraphs

(By United Press)

LOS ANGELES.—The Southern California Trojans were reported in a "fighting mood" as they prepared for next Saturday's contest with Washington. Spurred by their loss to California, the Trojans buckled down today to develop an offense that would click against the polished Huskies.

LOS ANGELES.—The U. C. L. A. Bruins today were at work developing a defense that would envelop Washington State ball-carriers when they dash here Sunday with the Cougars. The Bruins believed they would run into frequent passes and worked on defense against the aerial attack.

LOS ANGELES.—The Texas Tech football team of 40 players arrives here today for an Armistice Day engagement at the Coliseum with Loyola of Los Angeles. The Texas team, victors over Texas Christian, was hailed by followers as the strongest in the Lone Star state.

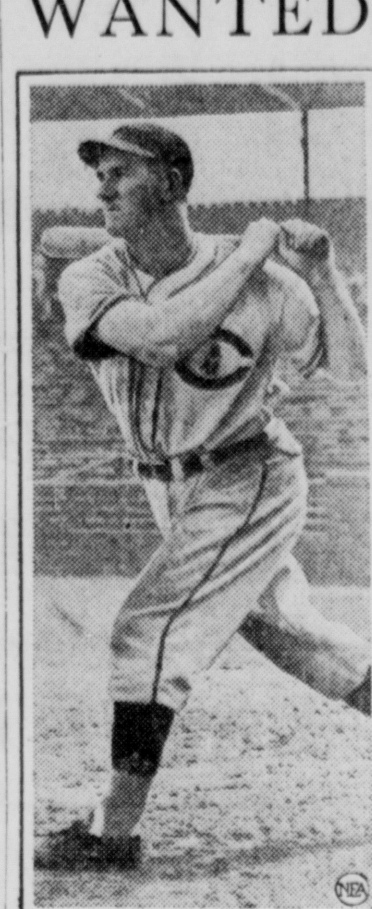

BERKELEY.—The University of California squad went back to work on Edwards' practice field today in preparation for the Oregon game here Saturday, following a day's layoff as a result of the Bears' upset victory over U. S. C.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY.—Stanford's squad, fullbacks early in the season, had three potential first-stringers available for the job today as the Cardinals prepared for the Oregon State contest at Portland. Glen Hamilton, varsity man injured a month ago, was back on the job along with Jake Brigham and Tony Calvello.

MORAGA.—St. Mary's began intensive drill today in preparation for its annual "little Big Game" field today in Santa Clara next Sunday at Kezar stadium. Santa Clara is one of the nation's three major unbeaten, untied teams. However, during 14 years of rivalry between the two schools, St. Mary's has beaten Santa Clara 13 times.

SEATTLE.—Virtually crippled by loss of By Haines, leading scorer of the team, Washington's squad entered a week of training today in preparation for its "crucial" Pacific-Coast conference game with Southern California. The Huskies' hopes for a Rose Bowl bid were dealt a body blow by the injury to Haines, considered one of the best backs on the coast and the man who might lead his team to a win over Troy.

PULLMAN, Wash.—Washington State's Cougars leave tonight for Los Angeles where Saturday they meet U. C. L. A. Three first string players—Fullback Hal Jones, Left Guard "Bud" Jones, and Right Guard Campbell—were left at home with serious knee injuries suffered in the Oregon State game.

With Lon Warneke the property of St. Louis, Frank Demaree, shown taking a healthy cut at the ball, is the Chicago Cub most sought by National league clubs willing to cooperate with Philip K. Wrigley in his rebuilding program. The Bruins offer the Cardinals Bill Lee, "Tex" Carleton, Roy Henshaw, Walter Stephenson, and either Augie Galan or Woody English for "Dizzy" Dean, but the Cards demand Demaree, Charley Grimm would swap Lee, Stanley Hack, and "Tuck" Stainback to Cincinnati for Paul Deringer, Ival Goodman, and Lew Riggs, but the Reds insist upon Demaree.

CHACCON-SOLIS MATCH SIGNED

Boxing Promoter Bob Singleton of the Orange County Athletic club today made a match for Thursday night that he's been after for a month.

He signed Chas. Little "French" Chaccon to fight Santa Ana's Raoul Solis. The weights were announced as 140 pounds, give or take a pound.

Chaccon turned in a sensational performance last week when he stopped the long winning streak of Maxie Moore of Orange, making the little football player like it for four straight rounds. Moore's face was so badly cut up that he had to wear a mask the following night when he played with Santa Ana Jaycee against Pomona. Moore is not on this week's boxing card. "Frenchy" is one of the busiest battlers ever to appear at the O.C.A.C. Cocky as all get-out, he leaned over the ropes and hissed at the newspapermen in press row after beating Moore. "So you call me a powder-puff puncher, huh?" he sneered.

Chaccon has promised Promoter Singleton he will fight Ray Vargas the night of November 19 if he beats Solis. Vargas outweighs "Frenchy" 12 pounds but Chaccon says he will waive that.

Thursday's semi-windup will be Barney Rees against Harry Crawford. Singleton is giving Rees a well earned promotion, boosting him from the preliminary ranks to box Crawford, a Los Angeles

COLISEUM MAY BE SPOT FOR NEW CLASSIC

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 10.—(UP)—A group of motion picture celebrities is considering sponsorship of a football game in competition with Pasadena's annual Rose Bowl encounter, the Hollywood Reporter, movie trade paper, reported today.

The trade journal declared that the film leaders discussing the enterprise would hold the game in Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum either on Christmas or New Year's Day and would use the proceeds for a movie industry charity.

Belief was expressed that such a game, with tickets priced far below the charges made for the Rose Bowl seats, would sell out the Coliseum which seats 105,000 persons. The Rose Bowl holds 87,000.

Santa Clara Considered

The paper said that Santa Clara college's undefeated team was being considered as the Western representative. The Broncos would be available if it was believed, as the Rose Bowl's Western team has always been a member of the Pacific Coast conference.

The motion picture industry long has nursed a peeve against the Rose Bowl management, the paper said.

The bad feeling reached a peak this year when exclusive rights to newsreel pictures of the Stanford-Southern Methodist encounter were sold to one studio. Rather than be confined to a few feet of film, the major newsreel organizations refused to send camera crews to the game.

Decision Delayed

A definite decision must await outcome of Santa Clara's final three games against St. Mary's, Loyola of Los Angeles and Texas Christian. If the Broncos win the last game, the paper reported, the chances were that the movie leaders would contact athletic officials of the Catholic institution for their reaction to such a game.

Should the plan reach the stage where Santa Clara is considering an Eastern opponent, it was believed that either Marquette's Golden Avalanche or the Fordham Rams would be approached. Both these teams have been mentioned for the Rose Bowl game.

The Reporter pointed out that all coast conference teams have either been defeated or tied thus far and the possibility existed that Washington, undefeated but tied in Coast conference play, may be beaten. In that event, undefeated Santa Clara would be a more representative team than any conference school.

REESE TRADED FOR PITCHER CAMPBELL

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—(UP)—With W. C. Tuttle, Los Angeles fiction writer, again directing the affairs of the Pacific Coast league, league directors in session here today announced the schedule for the first five series of the coming season.

The full schedule will be adopted at a mid-winter meeting at Los Angeles Jan. 15.

One trade was made yesterday: San Diego gave Archie Campbell, right-handed pitcher, to Los Angeles, in exchange for Jimmy Reese, second baseman.

WELL DRILLING ACTIVE AT H. B.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 10.—There are 14 wells drilling in the new East Side oil field along Delaware avenue and between Hampshire and Huntington avenues and Quincey and Utica streets. The four wells on production are holding up well. The Dunlap second well on the Sun Oil company property is flowing around 1000 barrels a day, it is reported. The other three wells are on the pump and doing from 250 to 400 barrels.

Shell Oil company is projecting four new wells, at once on the Davenport lease of 15 acres in which lease Long and Malcom of Los Angeles are chief royalty owners, although many Huntington Beach residents own royalty interests in this lease. Cordova Oil company is drilling its second well on the old Talbert Oil company Thompson lease in which J. J. Conrad of this city owns half of the one-sixth royalty, bringing him now, with one well completed, more than $30 a day. J. J. Conrad was one of the pioneer royalty investors and land owners in the oil field here and formerly operated and owned the Huntington Beach News.

Richfield Oil company is drilling one well on its lease at Quincey and Delaware and rigging up to drill a second well. Richfield is drilling entirely with electricity, the first all electrically operated rig to be put into use in the new field. Texas Oil company is drilling on one well on its Brown lease and is shortly to erect a new derrick for the second well to the new Dunlap sand. This sand is regarded by oil men as being the second Ashton of the oil field, where two Ashton sands exist. Only one Ashton sand previously been developed on the east side.

In all more than 200 oil workers have steady jobs on the new wells and the field presents a scene of agreeable activity.

STATE PRESENTS FIRST RUN FILM

"Shakedown," the first run attraction which heads the bill at the State Theater today and Wednesday, is an absorbing story of murder by telegraph which blends romance, comedy, mystery and suspense. Lew Ayres and Joan Perry are the featured players. The second film is "Border Flight," a story of the constant war waged against smugglers by the U. S. Coast Guard air corps. Aerial combat as well as hand-to-hand fighting lend plenty of thrills to this picture which stars John Howard, Grant Withers and Frances Farmer.

A short subject completes the program.

GENSLER-LEE

FOURTH STREET AT SYCAMORE — SANTA ANA

Jimmy Fidler in HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 9.—My fondness for Katharine Hepburn does not lessen my distaste for her studio brawls. Her most recent, for example, would make ludicrous material for the next stage satire on the movies. Let me tell you about it. You may agree that the back of a hair brush might be applied with justice to all.

For personal reasons, Miss Hepburn has been feuding with the studio publicity department and has refused to set foot in the press offices. So the other morning she stood in the street below and screamed for attention. One incautious press agent thrust his head out a window and Kathy ordered him to "bring down the stills of my new picture."

The luckless p. a. informed her that it is against rules to remove stills. Thereupon Miss Hepburn told him off in terms fit to fry the paint on the building. She capped her outburst by seizing stones to throw through the windows.

The political caracasses of the entire staff (less the chap who refused to deliver the stills; he was probably hiding under his desk) soothed the wild tempered Miss Hepburn. To my way of thinking it was a childish exhibition. As far as I am concerned she might have thrown every rock in California, and when there were no more rocks she would still be down on the street and the pictures would be up in my office.

Alice Brady ushered me to her dressing room this morning to demonstrate how she stopped her Scottie from scratching its back. She has taken a square sheet of stiff cardboard, cut a round hole in the center, and thrust the dog's head and front quarters through the hole. The cardboard ruff made the dog look like a bewhiskered Queen Elizabeth. Never have I seen a more disgusted animal. But, crude as it is, Miss Brady's invention works perfectly. The Scottie cannot claw at the itchy spot which it has already scratched raw.

Almost a sob story is the reunion of the Costello family: Maurice, Dolores and Helena. The father met me on the boulevard yesterday, and, despite his distinguished appearance his smart mustache does that for him, he was moist of eye as he told me that only a few days ago he breakfasted with Dolores, their first meal together in nearly ten years.

That long ago, Maurice objected to the marriages of his two daughters, and the family became tragically estranged. Dolores divorced John Barrymore, has once again returned father and daughter to each other's arms, and Helena has likewise returned to the fold. Maurice gave a baseball and bat to John Barrymore Jr. (Dolores has custody of the two children) and it is my guess the old gentleman has not been happier in a decade.

Fire Department Is Kept On Rush

Week end breezes kept the fire department busy. Trash fires, getting out of control because of the winds sent the department to six places. Only at the home of Neil Belsel, 209 West Cubbon, was any damage reported—$10 to the residence, yesterday afternoon.

Other fires were as follows on Saturday: 7:30 p. m., Halladay street, near Chestnut, grass fire; 8:25 p. m., rear of 925 French; 9:09 p. m., Sixth and Poinsettia; 10:16 p. m., 1540 West Seventh, fence damaged, and 10:51 p. m., 919 Poinsettia.

Gas, Gas All the Time, Can't Eat or Sleep

"The gas on my stomach was so bad I could not eat or sleep. Even my heart seemed to hurt. A friend suggested Adierka. The first dose I took brought me relief. Now I eat as I wish, sleep fine and never feel better."

—Mrs. J. S. Filler.

Adierka acts on BOTH upper and lower bowels while ordinary laxatives act on the lower bowel only. Adierka gives your system a thorough cleansing, bringing out old, poisonous matter that you would not believe was in your system and that has been causing gas pains, sour stomach, nervousness and headaches for months.

Time to get an ELECTRIC RANGE

• YES, IT'S TIME, ALL RIGHT. Your old stove served right well all these years... and it probably could get by a year or two more... but what's the use... it will cost more than it's worth. • It is time to switch to a modern electric range... for the same reason you switched to electric lights, to electric refrigeration... because it's better, easier, simpler, economical, always dependable. • In Edison territory alone, 250 homes are changing to electric cookery every week... homes just like yours.

COUNTY C. OF C. TOLD PLANS OF MEXICAN TOUR

Prospects for the most successful tour of Mexico ever undertaken from Orange county were reported last night by George Rayner of Santa Ana before directors of the Orange County Associated Chambers of Commerce, meeting at the Green Cat cafe, Santa Ana.

The tour is set for January 10 to 23 inclusive. Already 17 Orange county persons have indicated intentions of going; Reno, Nevada, has asked permission to send a large delegation, and San Diego city and county wish to attach a car to the special train. The tour will go to Mexico City, stopping at all the worth-while places en route.

The directors voted to refer to the various member chambers a proposed resolution supporting the California sardine bill under which the state game commission would be empowered to regulate the tonnage of the annual catch.

A letter to the various chambers asking that outdoor Christmas tree lighting be planned at once was authorized.

The secretary was instructed to write Ray Ingles, director of the department of motor vehicles, calling attention to the accumulation of broken bottles and beer cans along the highways. It is the belief of the directors that an educational campaign would do much to stop this type of law breaking.

For the next meeting a program of motion pictures of Mexico is being planned. These pictures will be presented by the Mexican Tours bureau, President C. G. Houston announced, and will publicize no particular commercial institution. Place for the meeting will be announced later. The date for the meeting will be December 8, the regular November and December meetings being combined on that date.

Plan To Form Capistrano Rotary Club

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Nov. 10.—Climaxing a series of weekly meetings a group of Baptist business men and Santa Ana Rotarians met at the Hotel Capistrano for luncheon Wednesday noon to ascertain if sufficient interest existed in this community to organize a Rotary club for San Juan Capistrano. A written ballot was taken and by a practically unanimous vote the Capistrano men voted to organize such a club.

Mac O. Robbins, past president of the Rotary club of Santa Ana, who has been in charge of the past meetings presided at the luncheon. He told the group that he was "very pleased" with their decision to join the great international organization.

The Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Santa Ana, spoke on the origin and purposes of Rotary. The Rev. McFarland is an enthusiastic member of the Santa Ana club and to him and his fellow Rotarians goes much of the credit for the organization of the Capistrano club.

The newly organized group will meet for luncheon next Thursday noon at the Hotel Capistrano. Officers and directors will be elected at this meeting.

FRANCE MOURNS, AND BUILDS NEW FORTS, AS BELGIAN KING FORGETS OLD WARTIME TIES

BY MORRIS GILBERT
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Nov. 10.—"Kings forget—but the people remember!" So says France, which still is trying to digest the Belgian King Leopold's announcement reaffirming Belgium's pre-war position of neutrality. Sugar-coated as the announcement was, it was a bitter pill for the French. Belgium represented the only corner of the French frontier where anti-French, anti-republican doctrines were not dominant. To the northeast: Germany; to the south-east: Italy; to the south-west: the new fascist Spain. And now, to the north: Belgium.

In the summer of 1914, Leopold III was going on 13 years old. How could he be expected to remember his family's flight from Brussels, menaced by the Kaiser's steamroller? How could he be expected to remember how the French poilus stood shoulder to shoulder with the little Belgian army in the Flanders bogs? Besides—Leopold is a king, and kings forget.

So says France.

W.E. PATTERSON WINS TROPHIES

Three new ribbons, a blue, a white and a yellow, have been added by W. E. Patterson to the big collection of awards gained at various Southland poultry shows by the fine strain of Cornish game fowls which he raises at his ranch home on Newport road.

The new ribbons came from the All Cornish show held in San Gabriel under auspices of the Cornish Breeders' club of Southern California, and closing Sunday night. Patterson is now giving much attention to the new all-white Cornish strain, and it was a five-month-old cockerel of this strain that took the white ribbon indicating first place in the show. The bird was entered with cockerels from 10 to 11 months old, but made such a fine showing that it had practically no competition for first place.

Third place was taken by a similar cockerel, also 5 months old, while Patterson took fourth place with one of the cockerels from his dark strain of Cornish Game fowls. He became interested in the white variety after the 1935 Los Angeles County Fair in Pomona, and got his start with a setting of eggs from a pen representing an unusually fine strain.

Belgium has assured France that "staff talks will continue." That means that, as far as Belgium is concerned, French and Belgian army chiefs can still get together to frame united plans for cooperation against some future "Tag." Fine, says France. But what if Belgian army chiefs start holding "staff talks" with German officers too? Why should France tell Belgium military secrets for Belgium to pass on to Germany? That question needs a lot of answering.

WORK OF RED CROSS TOLD

Leopold Educated in Flanders

About Leopold, there are certain facts well known to Frenchmen. In the first place, the young king, in character and training, is the product of a very nearly fatal blind-spot in this character and training of his father.

Albert, as far as the Belgian crown was concerned, was a long shot. Grandson of Leopold II, he was the son of a younger brother of the crown prince, and only a succession of untimely deaths put him in line to reign, and then only after he was comparatively mature. That meant that Albert was quite unprepared for the rather particular job of ruling the Belgians. Worst of all he spoke little or no Flemish, the tongue which half Belgium uses. It was a bad handicap.

So when Albert came to the throne, he vowed that his son Leopold should not suffer from such a hindrance. The result was that Leopold was brought up surrounded, taught, steered by Flemish, and Flemish influence in Belgium is pretty close to Germanic. Besides, Leopold was trained in the most devout Catholic tradition. It would not be unnatural therefore, in view of early development and tendency, for Leopold to feel more kinship for devout, Flemish-speaking than for French-speaking influences. And so it has apparently turned out.

See Hitler's Hands

Meanwhile, if Leopold's people have not forgotten how Belgians and French stood side by side in defense of what they considered liberty, it is clear in Paris that the Belgian people have certainly been high-pressed by Nazi Germany.

'FATHER, SON' BANQUET TO BE IN CAPISTRANO

Approximately 100 invitations have been issued by members of the Capistrano chapter of the Future Farmers of America for the third annual father and son banquet to be held in the high school auditorium at 7:30 o'clock tonight. This year's affair will be a barbecue to be planned and prepared by the members of the Future Farmers organization.

Freddie Hunn, president of the Future Farmers, with the assistance of enthusiastic committeemen, plan to make the banquet Tuesday evening the "best yet." Richard Ullon, toastmaster for the evening, has promised an inspirational program for the evening. Howard Hawkins, vocational agriculture teacher in the Valencia Union High school is to be the speaker for the evening. President Hunn will deliver the welcoming address.

Pancho Forster has planned a complete barbecue menu. Forster will supervise the preparation of the meats and has promised to have ready for the evening lamb barbecueed in the famous Forster style. He will also be responsible for the Spanish sarsa and tortillas.

The boys' cooking class under the direction of Mrs. Wilma Koeker, Home Economics teacher, will prepare the salads, beans and coffee. Ernest Deer and Anthony Alarcon with the help of the Creators club have planned the placing of the tables and the decorations for the evening. The decorations will be carried out as usual in the blue and gold colors of the national organization. Tables will be served by the Creators' club under the direction of Mrs. Koeker. An organization of the girls enrolled in Home Economics courses, Peter Yamauchi with the assistance of the Greenhands will have the task of getting dishes, silver and linen in readiness for the occasion. The task of cleaning the auditorium after the event will also fall to this group.

Takashi Kawaratan and John Uchida, assisted by C. C. McCarty, director of the Future Farmers, are in charge of the invitations. Charles Ross is chairman of the publicity committee. Mr. McCarty anticipates one of the largest gatherings of men the high school has yet entertained.

Police News

Arrested by deputy sheriffs on a warrant issued by Justice Kenneth Morrison of Santa Ana, Harold Hendrie, 30, 1119 West Washington, Santa Ana, was ordered today to begin making payments of $30 per month for support of his children. A one-year jail term was suspended.

Palmer J. Scott, 31, Los Angeles, gave himself up at county jail last night to begin serving a six months' term for reckless driving.

William Wayne, 21, Monrovia, was jailed yesterday by Constable George Bartley, on charges of failure to support his child.

Estanislao Guerrero, 31, 624 North Daisy, Santa Ana, was jailed early yesterday morning by California Highway Officer Horace Inge on a drunk driving charge.

Mrs. Mabel B. Butler, whose chicken pen was raided October 13 by thieves who took half of the flock, was raided again last night, she reported to sheriff's officers. All of the remaining chickens, about 30 of them, were taken last night.

Included in the loot found in an abandoned automobile here Sunday, was a gold-diamond ring valued at $150, which was returned to its owner Mrs. Lovett, 317 Stanford avenue, Garden Grove.

The thief, being sought by Southern California law enforcement officers, apparently overlooked the ring when he stripped 17 purses of their valuables after breaching into the home of Jennie Clark, 510 Stanford avenue, while she was entertaining 25 women guests last Thursday night. The abandoned car, in which Detective Lieutenant Charles W. Wolford and Officer J. B. Stephenson found the evidence of the theft, belonged to Elmer J. Rieple, 410 North Broadway, Long Beach, who reported it stolen last Thursday.

Harry Miller, a transient from Cleveland, Ohio, was given notice to leave town yesterday after it was reported that he was found begging from house to house.

While making a telephone call Sunday evening, Charles Randolph momentarily left his bill fold in a telephone booth at Fifth and Bush streets, and on returning, found it missing. Reporting to local authorities, Randolph states that the bill fold contained insurance cards and a driver's license registered to 2619 East 55th street, Huntington Park.

George R. Boyer, 80, was picked up by Officers N. C. Nelson and R. S. Elliot, yesterday after it was reported that he was roaming the streets and not knowing where he lived. After a questioning and a lengthy search, it was found that the sick man resided at 825 South Main.

Registered to George E. Brown of Los Alamitos, an abandoned automobile was found by city police in front of the Will Alfred home, 411 South Broadway, last evening. Mrs. Alfred said the car had been there for two days. It was impounded for safe keeping.

Leonard Peterson, 1027 South Main, reported to police that his bicycle, a blue and white "World" with red trimmings, was stolen from the Santa Ana high school district yesterday afternoon. A search was being made today to locate the vehicle.

Theft of watches from Mrs. A. M. Pegues, 825 South Main, were reported to city police yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Pegues said a gold watch was stolen from her in Los Angeles October 10, and a 15-

KIWANIAN TO BE HOSTS FOR OTHER CLUBMEN

Members of the Santa Ana Lions and 20-30 clubs will be guests of the Kiwanis club at luncheon November 18 when that club brings Douglas Malloch here as the principal speaker for that day.

Malloch, known as "The Poet Who Makes Living a Joy," is known to audiences all over the nation as the man who says "life is too serious a matter to be taken seriously."

Not that the poet has not thought deeply and cannot speak seriously on occasion. For example, those who read his majestic "A Comrade Hides Ahead" when it appeared in the Saturday Evening Post, one of the most notable poems by an American written in the last decade, know that side of the poet, too.

But, as Malloch himself remarked recently in an address in another city: "Life is too serious a matter to be taken seriously." And so he throws sunlight on it, instead of going around with a dark lantern looking for gloom. As the New York Tribune says of him: "He reveals the spirit of the thinker beneath the garb of the jester."

The Chicago Tribune said it in another way: "Douglas Malloch is a rare man, thoroughly a man's man, and yet with a fineness of spirit, a cleanness of vision, which has kept his boyish ideals as bright now as they were at twenty. And he has a sense of humor that no one can withstand."

"He possesses the rare faculty," says the Memphis Commercial Appeal, "of being able to make an audience laugh uproariously and at the same time cause it to think seriously."

Shower Gifts Presented To Engaged Girl

Climaxing a gay series of parties honoring Miss Martha Wallingford, fiancée of George Preble, was a party shower at which Mrs. Ernest Stump (Ruth Owens) entertained last night in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Owens, 214 Owens Drive.

The marriage of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Wallingford of Bolea, and Mrs. Preble, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. I. Preble, 1234 West Chestnut street, is anticipated as an Armistice Day event.

Mrs. Owens assisted her daughter in carrying out all plans for the party, which was in colorful autumn motif. Rust-hued chrysanthemums in artistic arrangement brightened rooms where tables spread with sunny yellow "mums." It was in this pretty setting that dessert was served in advance of card play.

Prizes in bridge rewarded Mrs. Q. L. Hardy and Mrs. Remington Mills for their first and second high scores. White and coral patery gifts in a lovely assortment were presented to Miss Wallingford from her assembled friends.

Sharing the affair with Mrs. Stump and Mrs. Owens were Miss Wallingford and her mother, Mrs. L. D. Wallingford. Mr. Preble's mother, Mrs. S. I. Preble and Mesdames Crawford Nalle, G. Stanley Norton, Charles Woodfill, George Bradley, Gilbert Melsinger, Norman Paul, Charles McDaniel Jr., H. Vesper Services Draw Interested Crowd

Three hundred and fifty or more interested friends assembled in First Presbyterian church late Sunday afternoon for the vesper service and candle-lighting ceremony with which Girl Reserves of the city launched their observance of the international celebration of World Fellowship week.

Mrs. K. H. Sutherland, Girl Reserves committee chairman for the T. W. C. A., and a planning committee composed of the Misses Mary Porter, Clara Spelman, Maxine Knight, Barbara Rowell, Mary Schofield and Margaret Fine had planned the service which was of unusual beauty. Miss Roberta Nichols was in charge of the program.

Miss Betty Neff, president of Tri-Y Girl Reserves of the high school greeted the guests, and Mrs. Kyle Rodenbeck followed with a short talk on World Fellowship and the T. W. C. A. Barbara Rowell, membership chairman in the Tri-Y group, conducted the recognition service for 98 Girl Reserves with the aid of presidents of junior high school groups, the Misses Jessie Mae Miles, Lucille Crawford and Virginia Jordan of Frances Willard, and Mary Zahn and Archaline Winter of Julia Lathrop.

Music was unusually beautiful with Mrs. Fred Perry (Mary Bruce Ferrey) at the organ and Miss Clara Spelman directing a choir composed of alumni and Tri-Y members. They were the Misses Mary Henderson, Joy Townsend, Helen Hicks, Maxine Knight, Roberta Nichols, Josephine White, Jackie Morrison, Pauline Cave, Marjane Belcher, Norma Area, Ruth Budd, Mary Paxton and Helen Lowe.

Wedding 50 Years Ago Recalled Today by S. A. Residents

"The newly married couple start out on life's tempestuous voyage under the most favorable circumstances, and with judicious management, the craft matrimonial will always sail on smooth waters," declared the "Tracy Republican" of November 12, 1886, in describing the wedding two days earlier of Miss Lillian Glehm of that Minnesota city, to Edgar J. Miller of Huron, So. Dak.

That this prophecy came true, was attested today when Mr. and Mrs. Miller, now residents of Santa Ana where they live at 1220 Cypress avenue, were honored in the observance of their golden wedding day. This observance was staged in Hollywood, where the Millers went yesterday to be house-guests of close family friends, Dr. and Mrs. B. H. Sprague.

With them they took their treasured copy of the Tracy Republican, in which the account of their wedding was given prominence on the front page under the heading "The Grandest Wedding in Tracy Since Its Inception." The story describes the bride as "handsome in lavender silk trimmed in white Ecceurial lace and beads, white slippers and gloves, and a spray of orange blossoms."

After a honeymoon in Minneapolis and St. Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Miller went to Huron to make their home, and there Mr. Miller was connected with Huron First National bank for the next 40 years, in the meantime serving two consecutive terms in the state senate.

Upon retirement a decade ago, Mr. and Mrs. Miller came to California and for the past eight years have lived in Santa Ana. That both have "grown old gracefully" is exemplified in the number of friends they have made here, all of whom will join in congratulations upon the truth of the prophecy of their wedding day.

Popular Radio Artist Here With Husband For Dinner Party

Interesting Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd L. Berkland, 1006 Hickory street, gave added interest to the duck dinner which Mrs. Berkland served in the early evening to a few Santa Ana friends asked to meet their visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Fairclough of Hollywood.

Mrs. Fairclough, known professionally as "Peggy Valentine," is one of the favorite artists of Radio KPAC and her musical gifts were in evidence throughout the evening, when she graciously complied with general requests of hosts and guests. She has a charming soprano voice, and her songs and many piano numbers were thoroughly enjoyed.

At the dinner hour, Mrs. Berkland observed a Thanksgiving theme in chrysanthemum and candle appointments and in colorful favors as an accompaniment to the tempting menu. After-dinner hours in which music was principal entertainment, introduced also the informal playing of contract from time to time.

Mr. and Mrs. Fairclough arrived in time for Sunday morning breakfast and a complete day with their hosts, culminating with the evening dinner shared also with Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Sargent and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Clever.

TRAVEL PLANS

Mr. and Mrs. Theo. A. Winbigger, 207 East Ninth street, are planning a departure next Sunday evening for Lansing, Mich., where a new automobile awaits their arrival. They will be gone some three weeks or more, as their travel plans include a leisurely return westward with various points of interest to be visited. Carlebad caverns and similar scenic wonders are among the places they hope to see.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller

Today's house-party in Hollywood at which Mr. and Mrs. Edgar J. Miller, 1220 Cypress avenue, were guests of honor, was in observance of the golden wedding day of Mr. and Mrs. Miller. They were wedded in Tracy, Minn., and lived in South Dakota many years, coming to Santa Ana eight years ago after Mr. Miller's retirement from banking life.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hanson, 617 West Fourth street, expect to go to Pomona tonight for a Pythian Sisters function during which their great niece, 2-year-old Dorothy LuBosch, will be crowned princess of the evening.

Mrs. LuBosch will be remembered as Miss Elsie Parker, who made her home in Santa Ana during one of her school years.

BUFFET DINNER

One of the many pleasant affairs given in advance of Tux and Gown club's dance Saturday night was a little dinner party at which Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Wade were hosts in their home, 1322 West Washington avenue.

Silver and white appointments graced the table from which dinner was served buffet style.

In the group with the hosts were Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Stroschein, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. John Colwell, Dr. and Mrs. Robert S. Wade, Mrs. Christine Lambert and Victor Rees.

Quiet Services Occur In Wedding Chapel

Saturday evening, November 7, the Santa Ana Wedding chapel was setting for rites of charming simplicity when Miss Ellen Ruby Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Rogers of Route 4, became the bride of Marion Nixon, Jay of Anaheim.

Only a few guests were hidden to the service which was read at 7:30 o'clock by the Rev. Earl C. Bloss, of the chapel.

Miss Rogers, given in marriage by her father, wore a gray gabardine tulle with all-gray accessories. She was attended by Miss Eleanor Foehman as maid of honor, while Jack Lee assisted Mr. Jay as best man. Immediately after the rites the new Mr. and Mrs. Jay departed for a honeymoon to be spent at Lake Arrowhead. Upon their return they will be at home to their friends at 523 South Reish street, Anaheim.

Mr. Jay, who is the son of Mrs. Lena Jay, of Anaheim, is employed in that city where he graduated from high school in 1935. His bride was a member of the 1934 graduating class of Santa Ana High school.

Writers' Club Entertained By Two Poets

Southland poetry publications and poets passed in review before Quill pen club members last night when Miss Beulah May combined an article "The Growth and Change of Poetry" with an interesting little talk which she climaxed by reading some of her own works.

The occasion was a meeting of Quill Pen club at which Mrs. Robert Shafer and Miss May joined in entertaining in the latter's home, 1002 Mabury street. Since neither Mrs. Shafer nor Miss May belongs to the club, and members do not often have the privilege of hearing their writings, the two hostesses were prevailed upon to provide the greater part of the program.

Some of the poems read by Miss May were "Old Glove" by Ben Field; "Tune O' Tears," Pauline Curran; "Jealousy" by Roberta Rainier; a poet whom club members met several years ago when she visited in this city; "Snakes," (McCarthy); "Old Bill" (Dorothy Davis); "There Might Be Glory in the Night" (Ann Hamilton); "Marjorie" and "Bitter Ale" (Virginia Church).

Requested to read some of her own writings, Miss May selected some which had appeared in her column of The Register. Of special interest was "Where the Santiago Flows," which has been set to music by Miss Dorothy Mayhew of this city. Also a singing type of poem, "A Song for Californians," Miss May's latest composition, was read and was warmly received. "The Wake for the Eldest" and other of her poems were read.

Mrs. Shafer contributed "Candle Maker," "The World Mother," "Consummation," and an especially lovely poem, "Auf Wiedersehen."

Representing the club group, Miss Lela Watson read a short story, "New Year's Eve."

Ice cream, cake and coffee were served on individual trays at the close of the pleasant affair.

Quill Pen club members sharing the hospitality of Miss May and Mrs. Shafer were Mesdames Blanche Brown, Roy Winchester, J. U. Vau, N. E. Wells, J. D. Campbell, Mariah Adams, Frank W. Harry M. Smith, Marshall Harnois, Emmett Elliott, William Fletcher and Miss Lela Watson. Critiquing the group were two guests, Mrs. Leland Auer and Miss Pauline Flint.

The next meeting will be held November 23 in the home of Mrs. N. E. Wells and Miss Verna Wells, 924 Halladay street.

Another pleasant affair honoring Miss Mary Kraft, bride-elect of August Helmle, was added to November's calendar Saturday evening when Miss Angeline Haugness entertained with a buffet supper in her home, 429 South Ross street. Miss Theresa Haugness aided her sister in carrying out plans for the party.

Mrs. Cornish Roehm and Miss Malinda Miller won prizes for scoring high and low in the bridge game of the evening. The interesting looking packages presented to Miss Kraft proved to contain an assortment of kitchen accessories.

Presiding at the prettily-laden table during the supper hour was Miss Angeline Haugness, who poured coffee. Appointments included green tapers and a colorful centerpiece formed of gourds and autumn fruits.

Sharing the affair with the Misses Angeline and Theresa Haugness and their mother, Mrs. N. M. Haugness, were the honoree, Miss Kraft, and her mother, Mrs. Mary Kraft; Mesdames Ernest Harms, William Kraft, Fred Wahl, Anna Miller, Cornish Roehm, Richard Hubbell and the Misses Malinda Miller, Laura Hanson, Alma Garthe and Martha Garthe.

Buffet Supper Comes As Feature Of Pre-nuptial Party

After a week-end visit in this city with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harp, 419 West Washington avenue, their cousin, Mrs. T. E. Osborne and infant daughter, Nancy Irene, of Oakland, left yesterday for Los Angeles to make a short stay before returning north.

The Harps and their guests spent Sunday in San Jacinto, Hemet and neighboring cities, enjoying dinner as guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mallory, of Hemet. They were supper guests that evening in the home of Mrs. Harp's mother, Mrs. Effie Hancock in San Jacinto, where they were joined by other guests including Mr. and Mrs. Frank Winn and daughters, Arline and Doris, of Los Angeles.

Stopping in Riverside, Mr. and Mrs. Harp and Mrs. Osborne and her little daughter joined in a reunion of the Edgingfield family.

Miss Kraft, and her mother, Mrs. Mary Kraft; Mesdames Ernest Harms, William Kraft, Fred Wahl, Anna Miller, Cornish Roehm, Richard Hubbell and the Misses Malinda Miller, Laura Hanson, Alma Garthe and Martha Garthe.

Close Friends Asked To Dine In Burns Home

Cheerfully admitting that it was at least his twenty-first birthday anniversary, Elmer Barry Burns was quite the guest of honor late the past week when Mrs. Burns gave observance to his birthday date by entertaining at dinner in their home, 916 Spurgeon street.

An intimate little group of close friends had been bidden to join members of the family circle, and two of the party, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Dawes, former Santa Anans, were down from their Los Angeles home as house-guests of Mr. and Mrs. Burns.

Dinner was served to the accompaniment of flowers and candles in autumn shades. The burnished leaves of Japanese persimmon with tendrils of English ivy, surrounded the central bowl of chrysanthemums resting on a mirror plaque. With the dessert course was produced an array of packages, and Mr. Burns found that his friends had chosen many and varied gifts as mementoes of the day. Especially entertaining was the big box of joke gifts which Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Winbigger had planned.

Invited to share the dinner event and its subsequent evening of music and chat with Mr. and Mrs. Burns, were their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Armini; Mrs. Burns' mother, Mrs. Emma French; Mr. and Mrs. Dawes, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gustlin, Mrs. J. R. Medlock, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gowen and Mr. and Mrs. Winbigger.

Travel Talk Uppermost Among Close Friends At Dinner Party

"Hall and farewell" seemed the dominant theme of an intimately delightful little dinner party at which Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McBride were hosts last night in their home, 1110 Spurgeon street.

For the informal affair was arranged partly as a welcome home to their son, John McBride, of the Sea Scout training ship "Stranger," Charles Spicer and her daughter, Charles Spicer and her daughter, Miss Mildred Spicer, departing today for the east.

At the dinner hour guests were grouped around a table on which a mound of autumn fruits gleamed in the soft radiance of candlelight. Covers were laid for the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. McBride, with their sons, John and Mack McBride; Mrs. Spicer, Miss Mildred Spicer, George Dutton Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. George Bradley.

After dinner hours were devoted to travel tales, many of those in prospect for Mrs. Spicer and Miss Spicer, but the majority of the adventures in Oriental and South Sea waters of John McBride. He is still aboard the "Stranger," now lying at anchor in Newport Bay, and will remain a member of the crew until a new one is formed for the next voyage when he will return to his studies at Junior college. Of the trio of boyhood friends represented at the gathering, George Dutton Jr. is in Santa Ana High school and Charles Spicer Jr. is a student at Occidental.

World Situation Provides Speaker With Vital Theme

That the United States has opportunity to display leadership in the ways of peace and democracy such as has never before occurred, was the concluding message last night of H. V. Kaltenborn when that internationally known radio commentator was speaker on a program planned by Ebell society in compliment to husbands of members.

Engagement Days Give Opportunity For Many Parties

Plans of Miss Margaret Jackson of Anaheim, for her wedding on November 13 to Hilton Dalesi of Fullerton, are of quite as much interest to Santa Ana friends as they are in the northern part of the county. For as a member of the county welfare department, Miss Jackson's work keeps her in this city, and her co-workers have enjoyed arranging courtesies for her.

Staff Party
Their most recent was one of three charming parties at which the popular bride-elect was complimented during the past week. Miss Glee Lightner was hostess on this occasion, entertaining the welfare staff in her Fullerton home at an evening of coffee. Prizes in the game were won by the party honoree, Miss Jackson, and by Mrs. Gladys Oberlin and Mrs. Eleanor Black.

In addition to her prize in the game, Miss Jackson received all manner of towels and bathroom equipment at a surprise shower which was staged in advance of the refreshment hour. Miss Lightner employed yellow in her decorative scheme, using flowers and candles in profusion, with the bridal motif apparent in place cards. Her invitation list included with Miss Jackson, the Misses Marjorie Harden, Billie Hanlon, Juanita Snyder, Norman Shaley, Louis Comito, Doris Tittle, Mrs. Evelyn Webber, Mrs. Geraldine Little, Mrs. Halstead McCormack and Mrs. Carl Young.

In Dalesi Home
Earlier in the week, Mrs. Charles Dalesi of Fullerton complimented her son's fiancée at a delightful evening with the two daughters of the home, the Misses Dorothy and Frances Dalesi aiding in all hostilities.

As a sequel to the evening of games, was a miscellaneous shower with Miss Jackson receiving her gifts at the hands of a messenger in true shower regalia of raincoat and dripping umbrella.

The serving of refreshments brought a conclusion to the evening which was shared by hostesses and honoree with Mesdames Edward Watkins, George Stevenson, Ernest Zetter, Grace Hardman, Anna L. Drott, Adolph Wigham, John Robinson, Carl Waterman, J. R. Eberhart, Charles Erthal, Bessie Appleman, Rex Burkhardt, L. R. Stull, Orland Clark, Arthur Roth, Magel Kiker, Miss Priscilla Blybach and Miss Eleanor Goldman, Fullerton; Mrs. Robert McDuell, Anaheim; Mrs. H. M. Fowler, Yorba Linda; and Mrs. David Pattison, San Francisco.

Card Party
Equally charming was the intimacy prevailing at the third and last of the week's gayeties, a desert-card party given by Miss Jackson's brother and sister-in-law, the Earl T. Jacksons of Anaheim.

Guests found places at the flower-centered, candle-lit dining table where dessert was served, by means of clever means cards in attendance. These also served for keeping score in the succeeding hearts contest. To Miss Jackson and Mr. Dalesi was presented a graceful bowl in the starlight pattern of crystal which the bride-elect is assembling for her future home. This was the gift of all the guests, many of whom are to be in the wedding party.

Invitation was extended by the hosts to Miss Jackson and Mr. Dalesi; Miss Priscilla Blybach, who will be maid of honor; Norman Watkins, to be best man; Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Humphrey of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. Hume West of this city. Mrs. West was Miss Stella Jackson, a bride of recent date.

V. F. W. Auxiliary

Concluding her second year as president of Ernest L. Kellogg auxiliary, V. F. W., Mrs. Glenn Hendrickson conducted her final meeting Friday night in Knights of Pythias hall. She will turn the gavel over to her successor, Mrs. James Sullivan at public installation to be held November 20 at 8 p. m. in the hall.

Mrs. Sullivan will take over her duties at the same time that Mr. Sullivan becomes commander of the post. Installing officer for the auxiliary will be Mrs. Opal Walters of Anaheim. Several members of Ernest L. Kellogg auxiliary will be on the installing team for Fullerton auxiliary, Thursday; Anaheim auxiliary, November 19, and Orange auxiliary, November 24. They will join other Orange county V. F. W. groups in conducting the ceremonies, it was announced.

The group made plans to enter a marching band in the Armistice day parade, and to stage a rummage sale December 11 and 12. Mrs. Sullivan will be in charge of the sale.

Visitors introduced were Mrs. Malinda Morris, president; Mrs.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Herisher, 1315 North Flower street, are leaving tomorrow to spend two days in Los Angeles as guests of Mrs. Herisher's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Harris.

Charles Spicer Jr. returned today to his studies at Occidental college after having spent the weekend with his mother and sister, Mrs. Charles Spicer, 2348 North Park boulevard, who are departing today for an extended eastern trip. He came down alone to greet his friend, John McBride, just home from a long cruise on the "Wanderer," Sea Scouts training ship.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Wagner, 530 South Birch street, have been enjoying the semi-tropical weather on the beach at Ensenada and were guests the past week at the smart Playa Ensenada in Old Mexico.

Troublesome State
Mrs. Rowland's introduction of the speaker, was like an introduction to world history, for his talk, given too informally and intimately to be designated as an address, brought to his audience a complete picture of the troublesome state of Europe.

He opened with a genial interval during which he placed himself in rapport with his audience by relating some of his radio experiences and reading a few of the amusing messages that he speedily received. Speedily switching to the more important message he had to give of world conditions as indicated by his announced theme, "We Look At The World," he gave prominence to the state of affairs in Spain, explaining that it is only a part of what is going on today all over Europe.

Because such is the case, he sketched in swiftly, a picture of the Franco-Russian alliance against Germany; the seemingly contradictory situation in which "Communism has gone patriotic"; Italy's desire to secure a stronghold in the Mediterranean by gaining one of the Balearic Islands in order to compete with the British stronghold of Malta; Germany's dream of a Canary Islands base; the strong Fascist minority in France; the fanaticism of Hitler which has alienated every country except Italy, and that only because it is a matter of policy to Mussolini to strengthen present bonds with Germany, and similar situations which he described with more or less detail.

Church Arraigned

Devoting the greater part of his attention to Spain, he expressed disagreement with the church in regard to the outcome of civil war there, which he declares is a test as to whether democracy can survive fascism. It is his opinion that the rebels cannot win, and he discussed the great factors in the war, citing chiefly the church, not as Catholicism, but as a property holding, bureaucratic institution. Church lands explained, predominate in the country and since an almost feudal system of agriculture maintains, it is virtually dead property. One of his arraignments against the church was that it dominates the educational system, yet Spain's illiteracy is proverbial.

"The kings of Spain are the cause of Spain," he quoted, rapidly citing a succession of monarchs noted for subnormal mentalities, sensualism and degeneracy. Regarding Alphonso, the recent monarch, he spoke of his fine sportsman qualities and his desire to lead a life of simplicity and sports in America.

In summing up the Spanish situation and its horribly bloody details, he dwelt briefly and warningly upon the dangers in our own country of lapsing into that anarchistic belief that individuals may live at the expense of others, and closed with his own firm opinion that war is not nearly so probable in Europe as readers of the press fear. That Germany and Italy are the only two countries to gain by war; that Italy is too much occupied with the Ethiopian campaign which has exhausted her gold reserves and her foreign credit, and that Germany's armament building campaign is being matched by other powers, while her general staff is a restraining influence with Hitler, were some of his conclusions.

The stabilizing of currencies and bringing world trade back to normal conditions will work wonders in dissipating war clouds he averred, concluding with his message of the important part that our own country has in bringing about these better conditions which would automatically remove the danger of another world war.

Rose Minton, president-elect; Mrs. Lula Reck and Mrs. Myra Grove, of Orange auxiliary, and Mrs. Opal Walters, of Anaheim organization, Mrs. Phoebe Hyatt, former Santa Ana, now living in Redondo Beach, was present. Announcement was made that a new member, Mrs. Sonia Harvey has gone to Portland, Ore. for her health.

It was reported that Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan took woolen quilts, magazines and cigarettes provided by the auxiliary, to veterans at Sawtelle last month.

Post and auxiliary members joined in a social hour during which refreshments were served by Mesdames Anna McCleary, Louise Hubbard, Ruth O'Mallia and Neva McEvoy.

LAID OFF FROM WORK BY CONSTIPATION

"For four years I suffered from constipation. I had gotten so weak I had to lay off from work. My doctor told me to use Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Since then, my grocery list has never been complete without it."—Mr. A. W. Murphy, 1010 16th St., Tuscaloosa, Alabama.

This delicious cereal will give you the same, sure relief. Laboratory tests prove it's safe. Within the body, its "bulk" absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the intestines. ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B which tones the intestines, and iron for the blood.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily. Serve as a cereal or cook into appetizing recipes. Isn't this natural food better than pills and drugs?

When you're at the grocery store today, get a package of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Try it a week, and see if you don't feel worlds better. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

NEWS OF ORANGE AND VICINITY

ORANGE OWNED CHOW CHOW ON WAY TO FAME

ORANGE, Nov. 10.—Wulee, a championship-bred Chow Chow owned by Mr. and Mrs. Cecil J. A. Maibach of the Ce-Nel Chow kennels at 374 North Pine street, was entered in the Silver Bay Kennel club at San Diego Sunday.

Jumping from one class into another, the 14-month-old Chow walked away with top honors in every division, finally going best of breed to receive the coveted purple of gold ribbon.

And while progressing to the top division, Wulee Brillantine received two more points toward a championship — passing the halfway mark with a total of eight. In going best of winners, Wulee defeated a female Chow which yesterday attained her championship.

Three gold trophies and eight ribbons were won by Wulee during the course of the day. He took the American Bred class, receiving first and a special ribbon, as well as a trophy, and then duplicated this feat in the open class, to receive two more ribbons and a trophy.

After going first in the winners class for males, where he received a purple ribbon and two championship points, Wulee then competed against the winners female, a dog which finished its championship march with the pair of points she annexed that day.

Surprising even his exhibitors, Wulee outscored the champion to go best of winners and best of breed.

Sing-Ling-Fu, veteran Chow from the Maibach kennels, was entered in the American Bred class, taking a second.

Brain Twizzlers

By Prof. J. D. Flint

Three boys, Bob, Bill, and Jim, were spending a vacation at a ranch out West and one day they set out on a trip on horseback. They had covered a distance of 43 1-3 miles to a little cabin where they stopped to rest and have something to eat. When they started after their picketed horses they were dismayed to find that two had disappeared.

After discussing the situation they started back to the ranch, Bob and Bill riding the remaining horse and Jim walking. The two would go on ahead, one would start walking, the other returning for the boy left behind. The horse could average 20 m. p. h. and the boys could walk respectively, Bob a mile in 20 minutes, Bill a mile in 15 minutes, and Jim a mile in 12 minutes. How could the three reach the ranch in the shortest possible time?

GRIDIRON HEROES

THERE was no stopping Beattie Feathers when that rampaging lad with Indian blood in his veins roamed the gridiron for Tennessee in 1933. Beattie probably was the greatest all-around back ever produced in Dixie—and that's saying a lot. He was a great punter, could pass with the best, and had few equals at hugging the leather.

His record of gaining 1052 yards in 10 games in 1933, averaging 9.8 each time he carried the ball, brought him the honor of being the most valuable player in the Southeastern Conference that year. He won eight varsity awards in basketball, track, and football.

At present he is one of the best players in professional football, starring with the Chicago Bears.

LAGUNA CITY COUNCIL MAY TAKE OVER C. OF C. BUILDING

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 10.—A proposal offered to the city council of Laguna Beach, under the terms of which the city would take over the building and land occupied by the Chamber of Commerce, is now undergoing serious consideration, following action by city council, at a recent meeting.

The property in question, situated in the heart of town, at Park avenue and First street, is encumbered in an amount approximating $2,500, according to Mayor Luther E. Mallow. The city's interest in the property lies in the fact that, in the basement of the building are located two modern comfort stations, which were built with city funds, and the upkeep of which is defrayed by the city.

The offer under scrutiny by a committee of two, Councilman Howard G. Heister and City Attorney Milburn G. Harvey, is that the city assume the indebtedness, take over the property, and comply with certain other requirements not yet made public. Heister and Harvey are in conference with officials of the local branch of Bank of America, holder of the mortgage on the property, and will report back to city council at next week's Wednesday night meeting. No action has yet been taken on an offer to purchase the building of the free library, which adjoins the chamber of commerce, and which, likewise, has been offered to the city, subject to assumption of a mortgage outstanding.

SALUTE TO Love

BEGIN HERE TODAY

KATE AND CAROLINE MEED live on a farm with their lovely, blonde, young daughter, ALICE MEED, and two old ZEKES servants, ALTHY and ZEKKE. Kate is engaged to ROBERT A. PRINCE, but breaks the engagement when she finds he is on the point of leaving her for EVELYN ELWELL, beautiful and wealthy.

Major Meed loses the farm to JEFF HOWARD, a bitter young mountaineer. Kate hates Jeff, yet is fascinated by him, while he loves her in spite of her insolent treatment.

Caroline sings at a Stephen Foster celebration, wearing an 1820 costume, and is a great success. A young man, ALTHY, next day asks for Caroline's address. Next day Major Meed has a stroke and dies. Jeff and afterward helps carry him to bed.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXX

MAJOR MEED was mightily aggrieved to find himself bedridden the day after what he scoffingly called "a little faint spell." He said to Kate apologetically, "I reckon you'll want to send me to that old soldier's home you were talkin' about, now I'm such a nuisance."

Kate shook her head. "I was a fool to suggest that, Gran'dad. I don't know whatever made me. You don't hold it against me, do you?"

He patted her hand. "There's not as sweet a girl as you on this green earth, Kate—except Caroline, of course. I don't count myself a poor man or one to be pitied, as long as I've got my two granddaughters. Who's that downstairs, baby?"

"It's Mr. Howard. Caroline's talking to him."

"What does he want?"

"To ask after your health, I reckon. Would you like your hair reached this morning, Gran'dad?"

"Yes, that would be nice. Like a preacher. . . . It was Jeff Howard that helped Zeke get me to bed yesterday. He's a mighty kind fellow."

"Um-m. Try to sleep now, while I fan. It's a hot day."

Downstairs Jeff was saying to Caroline, "I'll bring more ice this evening! I stopped by to tell you to count on it. I'd gladly bring whisky and brandy, only I reckon you don't want to give it to the old gentleman?"

"No, we don't, Mr. Howard. He's too fond of it." Caroline was surprised to find herself thinking of Jeff Howard as a confidential friend.

MID-AFTERNOON and a strange car before the house. Caroline and Kate, looking down cautiously from an upper window, saw a young man get out and consult the name on the mail box.

Kate exclaimed, "It's—it's that Neilson man!"

"Who?" asked Caroline blankly.

Absent Votes May Change H.B. Tango Law

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 10.—While the voters approved a local measure permitting the operation of tango games in this city, count of the absent voter ballot may defeat the measure, it was pointed out today.

The measure was carried by a margin of 37 votes, they point out, and there are 48 absent voter ballots from this city. Should they all be opposed to the measure it would still be defeated. The possibility of such action, however, is considered remote.

ANNUAL BAZAAR TO BE OFFERED DEC. 11

WINTERSBURG, Nov. 10.—The date for the annual bazaar sponsored by the Wintersburg Ladies' Aid society was set for Dec. 11, at the business session held recently in connection with the all-day sewing, which the women held at the Methodist church hall to supply articles for the bazaar. A "bazaar party" was also voted, this to be on Dec. 5, when the meeting will be held at the church hall to make final arrangements for the bazaar. A "pocket lunch" will be featured for the party, each woman to bring her own refreshments. The bazaar will be open for both afternoon and evening.

Mrs. May Moore presided at the business meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. J. Allen Young, who is ill. The meeting came after the noon luncheon at which 10 women were served after a morning of sewing.

Present during the day, were Mrs. Albert Ruoff, Mrs. May Moore, Mrs. Muriel Hurst, Mrs. Mills Cowling, Mrs. Tanner, Mrs. Henry Friend, Mrs. John Stinson, Mrs. Alton Hall, Mrs. C. E. Bergner, Mrs. Joseph Thompson, Mrs. Harry Letson, Mrs. J. A. Murdy, Jr.

Those present were the honor sees with their children, Doroth and Dwight; Mr. and Mrs. Walte Jungkeit and children, Barbara and Donald; Mr. and Mrs. Harr Fries and their daughters, Myr and Alice; Miss Ruth Jungkeit and their sons, Dean, Danny and Louis; Miss Lillian Bartlett and Miss Lillian Reddie, who are sitting here from Cathay, North Dakota; Mr. Arthur Jungkeit and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Jungkeit in Santa Rosa.

"Carl Neilson. Your fan. Your public. He sat next me when you sang and yelled into my ear to ask who you were. I gave him your address, but I thought he'd only write a letter."

Downstairs Althy was admitting the caller. They could hear her politely asking him to "rest" his hat on the table and sit down.

"Spruce up!" Kate said to Caroline. "He'll expect you to look pretty. I'll help you dress. Yes, Althy! She'll be right down!"

A quick change of clothing, fragrant powder, a comb run through hair already smooth and shining, and Caroline was ready.

Kate, sitting beside her sleeping grandfather and mechanically fanning him, heard the murmur of voices below. Two hours of it. Then the man took his departure and Caroline came running upstairs and into the room, starry-eyed.

"Guess what!" she said in an ecstatic whisper. "He's from a Louisville radio station! I'm to have an audition!"

Kate arose and they did a dance together in jubilation. They had indulged in this insanity since earliest childhood, whenever joy overtook them. They danced out of the room now, down the narrow hallway and into their own room, where they fell into chairs and stared at one another with delight.

"Tell all!" Kate implored dramatically.

"Isn't he attractive?" Caroline said. "He's not married."

Kate was impatient. "I'm not interested in Mr. Neilson's private life. What about your chances?"

"Go on. Talk!"

"Yes. . . . Well, his radio station has a sponsor who's looking for a program. They want someone to sing for half an hour every week from 7 to 7:30. They had in mind simple ballads. That sort of thing. Mr. Neilson's been scouting for someone. When he heard me, he thought I'd do. I'm to have an audition in the morning at the studio. At 10:30. Oh, Kate can't this be? But maybe I won't suit the others. Don't let me be too hopeful, Kate!"

Caroline returned from the city the next day on the 5 o'clock bus and walked through from the State Pike. Kate, watching, ran to the gate to meet her. She had never seen anyone look quite so dusty or quite so triumphant. Caroline asked at once, "How's Gran'dad?"

"Better. I didn't tell him why you went to Louisville. Well?"

"They've accepted me, Kate. Here's my contract." They walked to the porch and sat on the steps and wept in each other's arms.

"Seventy dollars a week!" Caroline announced incredulously.

"Oh, Caroline! For doing something you love to do!"

"Who?" asked Caroline blankly.

CITY OF GOLDEN POPPIES

There is something very appealing in this plan proposed by representatives of some of Santa Ana's principal women's organizations to sow our city's vacant lots and parking places to California poppies. It is just such a plan as one might expect to originate in a fertile feminine mind, and we men, with our city's best interests at heart, can do nothing less than assure them of our unceasing co-operation.

A very pleasant picture is called to mind. The picture of our city literally bursting into bloom as spring advances. A golden bloom that is emblematic of the Golden State, and produced by those very flowers that are constantly associated with our state—California poppies. We look to Mother Nature for our finest scenic effects. Scenes that man for all his masterly achievements, cannot rival. Each spring Mother Nature clothes the so-called "waste spaces" of our state, with gold.

Desert land, arid hillsides, fertile valleys are like garbed in gold—the gold of California poppies. Why should not Santa Ana follow the example set by Nature? Her "waste spaces" glow with the same vivid beauty that characterizes those of the state?

We feel that these women's organizations are trail blazers. Why should we not follow the trail and join with them in making our city a blaze of golden blossom when spring arrives? Men's organizations might offer co-operation by relieving the women of the more arduous duties connected with such a plan. The Young Women's Christian association is in this plan. Why should not the Young Men's association follow suit? Ebell society, Woman's club, the Garden club, all are interested. What about the men's service clubs, the Elks, the Masons, the Odd Fellows, and all the strictly masculine organizations?

And aside from our own pleasure and civic pride in the results, there is a pleasant warmth in the thought of eastern tourists carrying home the message, "Don't neglect to visit Santa Ana, the Poppy City. It is the loveliest spot you ever saw—simply glowing with great golden poppies every place you look!"

WAR EXPENDITURES

The figures recently published by the League of Nations in connection with the issuance of the current Armament Yearbook are appalling. The report shows that more than $9,000,000,000 was spent last year in the preparations for destruction of life and property in war. Every indication is that more will be spent this year than last year.

In answer to Germany's extraordinary expansion of its air forces, France announced last Tuesday a program of aerial development to cost over $232,625,000 in addition to an already greatly enlarged military budget. Great Britain, being unable to manufacture as many aircrafts as she believes she needs, is now exporting the American market. In many countries the number of men under arms is being increased. Our own country's budget for defense for the last fiscal year ending July 30, was $905,000,000; for the year 1936-37 it is to be $993,797,000. No country except Germany exceeds this expenditure.

It is this terrifying fear of a surprise attack from the air that is driving the nations to accelerate so rapidly their aerial preparations. In the air the best defense is believed to be the power of devastating offense.

Of course, these great expenditures put money in circulation and those people who believe that we have too much capital and we have over saved, should be delighted that we are spending so much money for war. We cannot help but believe that the more the nation spends on war, the less comforts of life the citizens can have. We do not believe that a bottle of milk can be consumed twice. If it is consumed by an army, it cannot be consumed in peace and comfort in private home.

CHRISTMAS CLUB

Upward of 1,000,000 Americans are about to begin their Christmas shopping with the clear consciences of people who have budgeted their savings so carefully that they can get over the Christmas gift hurdle without dipping into income or running up any bills.

These Americans are the ones who have spent the last year contributing regularly to the Christmas Club deposits maintained by the banks. The National Association of Mutual Savings Banks announces that slightly less than $44,000,000 will be distributed to Christmas Club members within the next few weeks.

This, incidentally, represents an increase of over $6,000,000 over the figures for last year. It is hardly necessary to say that this Christmas Club stunt is an excellent way to make the Christmas shopping season painless.

The Christmas of 1937 is a long way off, but right now is a good time to have your bank explain the Christmas Club idea to you, if you have never tried it before.

CANDY VS. BOOKS

It is reported that the United States spends $8.15 yearly per capita for candy, ice cream and soda but only $1.10 for books. Included in the $1.10 for books, a large part undoubtedly would be for books of entertainment and amusement.

Of course anyone who wants to read can secure practically all the reading matter he wants without any expenditure, due to the wonderful libraries in the country. If the people, however, had spent a great deal more time in reading thought-creating books, instead of so much time and energy in candy and sodas, we probably would not have so many impractical laws on our statute books. We need something that will help the people think clearly and for the common interest of people not only today but for each succeeding year.

MONEY IN CIRCULATION

On November 4, the money in circulation rose to $8,378,000,000. Even in 1929, the highest monthly average was $4,943,000,000. Yet during 1929 prices were considerably higher than they are at present and the volume of business was much greater.

In addition to the large amount of money now in circulation, it must also be remembered that bank deposits are now record breaking. The total demand deposits for the reporting member banks is about 15.4 billion dollars, against a peak of 13.6 billion dollars in January, 1929 (and an abnormal run up to 15.1 billion dollars in October 1929 at the time of the crash).

This large amount of deposits and cash is certainly not because of high prices—it is because of artificial credit and artificial money.

WON'T HURT YOU

The oft repeated statement that "What you do not know, will not hurt you" must be the reason that most people are opposed to direct taxation. The American Taxpayers' League remarks that taxes are hidden because officeholders and politicians do not want you to know how waste and extravagance in government is hurting you. If you directly paid 25 per cent or 30 per cent government overhead on everything you consumed, you would immediately rebel against the waste and extravagance of government. But the politicians have "kidded" the great majority of people into believing that the government is largely supported by the rich and that the average citizen pays little.

This is the reason the government is now taking from 30 per cent to 33 per cent of the national income.

If there is any one thing we need, it is direct taxation so that the people may know exactly what the government is costing.

NOT DEMOCRATIC

It is reported that King Edward made a present of a necklace to Mrs. Simpson which cost $125,000. We cannot understand how an intelligent people can continue to respect a ruler who is so extravagant while the great mass of his subjects are so much in need of the necessities of life. The parties who sold the king this necklace for $125,000 will undoubtedly consume the purchase price by buying the necessities of life. This will make the necessities of life that much scarcer and more difficult to get by the great mass of people. The $125,000 necklace will not produce any of the necessities of life needed.

Had the king invested this $125,000 in any equipment that would add to the wealth of the country and make it possible to produce more of the comforts of life with less expenditure of human energy, he then would be carrying out what we regard the democratic form of economics or government.

It is certainly true that extravagant living on the part of the few is not democratic.

PRODUCER-CONSUMER PAYS

The American Federation of Labor is now going to ask that the Social Security Act be changed so that the entire amount of the pay to the government is paid directly by the employer. The Federation of Labor seems to think that this will make a difference. The only difference it will make is that if the employer directly pays it all, in the long run, it will cost the wage earner and the consumer more because it will be an indirect tax and, as a result, the consumer and the wage earner will not insist on the economy in its operation.

To believe that this tax will come from the employer, is to believe that the wage earner can be paid for things which he does not produce. If there is an overhead charge of 6 per cent because a man is employed, the worker will have to produce 6 per cent more for the wages he receives than he otherwise would be obliged to produce. In other words, his wages will be less by the exact amount of the tax plus the extra waste of the government because the voters "kidd" themselves into believing that it is coming from the rich instead of the workers and the consumers.

DOING HARDEST JOB

Every individual should strive to work at the hardest job he can do. No one should do a job that someone with less efficiency or intelligence can do. When an efficient man does a job that an unskilled laborer can do, he is making it much more difficult for the unskilled laborer to find employment.

The point we are leading up to is that a prominent Santa Anan remarked in our presence that convict labor should not compete in producing farm products. If inefficient convict labor can produce farm products, there is no reason why efficient workers should be retained to do the work that the less efficient can do. Let the efficient producer of farm products learn to do more complicated and difficult jobs that the slow and inefficient cannot do. This adds to the total production by the amount that the slow and inefficient can contribute and, as a result, raises the standard of living of all people. There are plenty of more difficult jobs to be done by those who have the courage, perseverance and insight to undertake and accomplish the work. The difficulty, of course, is to get the competent and efficient to find the job that they are best qualified to do and then learn to do it as well as or better than anyone else. Always do the hardest job you can do but never try to do a job that is too difficult. The big problem is to find the hardest job a worker can do.

Friendship, like the immortality of the soul, is too good to be believed. —Emerson.

Mr. Mussolini's Peace Program

Day By Day In Washington

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1936)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Enough time has elapsed now to ascertain a few of the effects which the national election has had upon groups—business men, political leaders, labor leaders and officialdom itself.

Business men who supported Governor Landon—and they far outnumbered those who supported President Roosevelt—are stunned by the landslide. They are at the moment trying to adjust themselves to the new conditions.

Political leaders are astonished. Republicans are depressed and New Deal Democrats are jubilantly surprised.

Labor leaders are supremely gratified and confident that they played a controlling part.

Government officials high and low are joyful that their work is to be continued and that opportunity is afforded for more effectiveness now that the inevitable period of indecision and postponements which accompany every campaign is at an end.

Politicians are puzzled. The New Deal Democrats are not inclined to regard seriously the fear that Mr. Roosevelt might take advantage of his absolute control of Congress. The conservative Democrats are inclined to be hopeful that Mr. Roosevelt will rely more upon them in his second administration than in his first.

Underneath the surface there is, if the truth be known, just a bit of worry among all groups as to what the big landslide really does mean so far as the future of political parties is concerned.

In terms of percentage of the total vote, there would be no occasion for concern, because Warren Harding in 1920 received a bigger percentage of the votes cast than did President Roosevelt last week, though, to be sure, in actual numbers, Mr. Roosevelt had a bigger plurality of votes due to the increased totals registered.

But has America now a new majority, corresponding perhaps to the popular front in Paris? Certainly the victory was not one of the Democrat party alone but of a combination of groups and forces that never before have been mobilized on one side of a presidential contest.

It will be interesting to see the final official figures when they are all tabulated because it is doubtful will be found that the vote of the so-called minority parties shrank to almost negligible numbers. Four years ago, the Literary Digest poll was inaccurate in some states because the total minority vote by mail disappeared from 6.4 in the advance poll to 2.9 in the actual election. What happened to this minority vote?

The answer would seem to be that the vote of the minority parties goes against political party organizations on election day. Undoubtedly the argument to the Lemke-Coughlin vote was that the ballot would be wasted or that a vote for Lemke was a vote for Landon. Early straw votes allowed that this vote was being derived largely from Roosevelt strength.

The minority parties have been swallowed up this year in the new majority. But inside that new majority are groups more powerful than any which ever before exercised influence in American politics. Long years ago, the Non-Partisan League in North Dakota discovered that it was impractical to try to form a third party, but that it was highly practical to move in through the primaries and capture the machinery of the dominant party.

Now that the new majority has won its first big triumph, the question of what each of the component groups wants out of the victory becomes pertinent. Administration officials are inclined to scoff at possibilities of dissension in the ranks because they are convinced that Mr. Roosevelt's personal magnetism and leadership will hold all of the new majority in line. Hence, the last few days have given rise to reports that Mr. Roosevelt is going to try to "balance the budget" and this has been interpreted to mean he will adopt a conservative course.

But Mr. Roosevelt will run a risk if he turns his back abruptly on the groups who elected him. They do not expect him to and do not wish him to balance the budget—at least not for two or three years yet. They do not want him to become concerned about being "conservative" but to keep right on with the plans first launched in 1933, whereby the government was to continue aggressively to shape its policies to help the so-called underprivileged.

Business men who sense these tendencies and trends are inclined to let nature take its course. Whatever formula Mr. Roosevelt may have for enlarging the "planned economy" of his first administration has to work in its final analysis—and, by making it work, business men mean the effective functioning of the economic system in the all-important era of reconstruction and recovery.

Most business men are anxious to cooperate. Some of the more liberal minded will even influence their boards of directors and stockholders to forego dividends and particularly the labor in the low income groups. Indeed, the corporate surplus tax may result in increases, for the next year or so at least, in the expenditures of corporations and in less money for the tax collector than was anticipated.

Many a corporation will say to itself, after some careful figuring, that it is better to invest, for a year or more anyway, in the good will that results from pay increases and from a contribution to the general level of contentment than it is to build up a surplus and pay a heavy tax on dividends necessary to keep stockholders satisfied.

This may result in improving the lot of the low-income groups, which may be one answer to the uprisings in the last election, but it will also compel a readjustment of the tax structure because the government has depended on the corporate surplus tax for some huge revenues. Likewise, there

Little Benny's Note Book

BY LEE PAPE

Pop was smoking and thinking in his private chair and ma said, "I've got a wonderful idea for a baffling plot for a detective mystery novel, Willyum. It just came to me unannounced out of a blue sky. I've heard that ordinary private people have made fortunes selling original plots to the movies. Or do you think it would be better to sell it to an author first, and have him write it into a book and make it famous so the different movie companies will bid against each other for it with perfectly frantic prices?" she said.

What's the plot? pop said, and ma said, Well, it's about a certain highly connected family, and the story starts right in with a bang when they take terms being found dead one by one in their beds without the shadow of a trace of a clue. There's no sign of poison and not the slightest indication of violence such as a bruise or strangle marks, nothing except a happy smiling smile on each of their faces and a white carnation under their pillow. The leading detectives and scientists are all in a blank about it, ma said.

Do you mean there's nobody to suspect? pop said, and ma said, Just one person, a mysterious servant named Chung that the family had engaged in spite of his sinister manner because he was an ideal servant and insisted on working for practically nothing. Well, the grand final climax is when Chung disappears leaving behind him nothing but a note pinned to his wall with a diamond dagger and saying on it, I am innocent, I swear it by the faith of my fathers, ma said.

Well, and what's the solution? pop said, and ma said, There never is any, that's what makes the plot a real mystery. People are getting tired of unsatisfactory and half explained solutions, so here at last is a complete unashamed baffling mystery in every sense of the word. What do you think of it, Willyum? she said.

I'm trying not to, pop said.

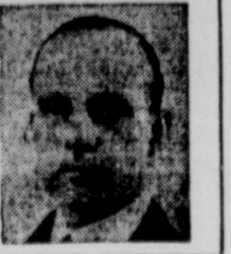

And he got in back of the sporting page.

are businesses not so well heeled as the big fellows with their surpluses, and these smaller concerns will not be able to stand the garf, especially as their competitors dig into surplus and raise the wage scale to a point that just about menaces the weaker companies in a particular field or group. The chances of the big business getting bigger and achieving a virtual monopoly would seem to have been improved by the new tax law.

The first test of whether Mr. Roosevelt has gone "conservative" will come on his attitude toward the balancing of the budget and the new tax law. This does not have to be revealed for several weeks yet. Meanwhile, the President is trying unquestionably to let the economic system take a little breathing spell and digest the effects of the enormous amount of public money that is at present in circulation.

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

THE PRESIDENT'S AGENDA

There is a lot of unfinished business on the national agenda.

Here are a few of the major items:

We have not yet solved the unemployment problem. We must create conditions that afford something better than made-work for the some 10,000,000 Americans who are still unemployed by the normal enterprise of the nation.

We must decide whether the lavish federal spending enforced by the emergency should continue as a major means of absorbing the unemployed or whether there are other moves that will enable private enterprise to make this spending unnecessary.

We must decide what, in the long-run interest of labor and of the people as a whole, the relationship between government and organized labor should be.

We must decide whether the federal government should have the power to fix the wages and hours of labor.

We must decide whether the federal government should have the power to determine prices.

We must face frankly the whole philosophy of tariff under which we can best promote our own interest and contribute to a sane world.

We must make a choice between a drastic reduction in federal expenditures and a drastic application of the income tax to lower and lower income levels.

As the returns on private securities increase, we must watch the fate of government securities and see to it that the national credit is surely maintained at a high level.

We must in an utterly unhesitating spirit face the problem of the soundness or unsoundness of our anti-trust laws, and be careful not to produce through public planning the very sins of private monopoly from which we have suffered.

The list of unfinished business is long.

OUR CHILDREN

BY ANGELO PATRI

BICKERING CHILDREN

"I'm at my wits' end to know what to do with my two girls. They are 17 and 15—old enough to know better, but they quarrel as often as they meet. I've punished them, done everything I know how to do, and still they cannot agree. Our home is a battlefield. My nerves are worn raw and my husband takes to his room and stays there to avoid the unpleasantness. He says I ought to be able to keep the peace. But how can I?"

The peace cannot be kept permanently. There are always differences of opinion, temperament, taste, and children have not the control that allows calm discussion of differences. Each is self-centered and blind to the other's need of sympathy and understanding. Each is for himself. The quarrel is inevitable.

Early training helps some. If the children are taught to share their good times and sink their bad ones, by a self-restriction and planned opportunity they have a background for tolerance and co-operation at least, but the bickering of adolescence must be faced. At this period self-assertion becomes a strong force, and force meeting force means a battle.

Usually there is one stronger than another, and he begins the fight by announcing in determined tones that his way is the one and only way. He is likely to try his power for the sheer pleasure of doing so. He picks the quarrel. When you see that send him promptly in another direction, to do some bit of work that will use his energy for a time, and tell the other one to busy himself. The less said about the reason for your orders, the better. Argument feeds itself.

As soon as possible find the leader by himself and tell him that he must feel responsible for keeping the peace. He is not to boss the other children, not to assume lordship over them. He is to be helpful and kind, and stay out of the way. Be firm about it and do what you say you will do; isolate him the moment he begins.

Tell two bickering children that, after they cool off, they are to get together and come to some agreement about the dispute. They have to find a way out for themselves. That helps them to see how futile the whole business is. Give each his schedule of duties, a place for his own things. Guard his privileges and protect his rights. Insist upon taking turns.

A broken steering gear cost Teddy Tetzlaff his chance to win the Phoenix road race, and almost cost his life, according to the accounts he gave last night when stopping in Orange at the home of his sister, Mrs. N. T. Edwards. His ankle is in a plaster cast and his face is badly battered but he plans to enter the Savanna races as soon as he reaches Phoenix.

The celery season is well under way at Huntington Beach and half a dozen cars already have been shipped to middle western and coast points, with not nearly enough celery on hand to supply the demand. W. E. Gerhart, manager estimates that the crop will run about 1000 cars.

L. K. Strong, who last spring purchased the Morse property on West Seventeenth street, has arrived with his family from Moscow, Idaho. Changing a dictatorship to a democracy means ousting the other side's boss and putting in your crowd's boss. Who will profit by the agreement of America, France and England to protect one another's currency? Well, which one needs protection? You needn't covet noble birth, great learning or wealth. You can get the same nice feeling of superiority by quitting tobacco.

Don't worry about America's "being dragged into war". If it's that dumb and helpless, it ought to be conquered.

CORRECT THIS SENTENCE: "I FOUGHT HARD IN THE CAMPAIGN," SAID THE RABBI PARTISAN, "BUT NEVER ONCE MISREPRESENTED THE FACTS."
